Slavs Fight on 50 Mile Front From Halicz to Carpathian Foothills

Brusiloff's Northern Army Has Captured Important Heights On Road To Lemberg—Central and Southern Forces Victorious In Heavy Battles For Crossings Of Lomnica River—Probable Junction With Rumanians—Aerial Captures Of Officers, Men And 5 Heavy Guns—British Airmen Bring Down 14 German Machines In Severe Fighting.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

Gaining momentum as it moves westward the great Russian drive along the Dniester in Galicia continues successfully. The fighting is progressing on a fifty mile front from Halicz to the foothills of the Carpathians, and all along the line the Russians are advancing.

Northwest of Halicz on Thursday the Russians enlarged their gains north of the Dniester, captured important heights between the river and Bukaczowice, and occupied two villages. This advance is in the direction of Lemberg. In the centre and on the southern end of the line the Russians have been victorious in heavy battles for the possession of the crossings of the River Lomnica. They have made progress on the road to Dolina and have captured the crossings of the Lomnica at Perehinsko, about fifteen miles south of Kalusz and four miles west of Bohorodzyany.

A probable resumption of heavy fighting on the eastern front north of the Pripiet marshes and in Rumania is indicated. On the Dvina and Shire rivers and near Smorgon, north of Pinsk, there has been more active infantry fighting. No determined attack, however, has yet developed.

The Russian advance west of Stanislau besides endangering the Austro-German line immediately north in Galicia, also is a threat against the line in Rumania. The Russians and Rumanian artillery has been hammering the Teutonic positions there in the past few days and already advance parties have been thrown forward to test the enemy's strength. No attack in force has been reported.

Raid and reconnoitering engagements have occupied the British and Germans on the northern end of the front in France. South of St. Quentin along the Aisne front and on both sides of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, the artillery only have been active.

Captain Crossings
PETROGRAD, July 13.—In the course of the battles in Eastern Galicia on Wednesday, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department, the Russians captured ten officers and 850 rank and file, chiefly Germans. They also took five heavy guns and ten machine guns.

On a front of nearly fifty miles from Halicz to the foothills of the Carpathians the Russians have advanced westward across the Lomnica and north across the Dniester, capturing several villages and important enemy positions.

North of the Dniester, in the region of Halicz, says the war office statement, the Russian forces have captured heights and drove the enemy back to northeast of Ehlus, occupying two villages.

West of Kalusz, the Russians captured the crossings of the Lomnica at Perehinsko, west of Bohorodzyany.

LONDON, July 13.—British airmen have been victorious in the most severe aerial fighting since the beginning of the war. On the front in France on Thursday fourteen German air-

COMR'S REPORT A MINE OF INFORMATION

On Recent Increase In The Cost Of Living.

GROSS PROFITS GIVEN NOT NET FIGURES

Investigation Is Now Under Way To Determine Latter.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, July 13.—A more careful perusal of the report of W. F. O'Connor, the high cost of living commissioner, on cold storage conditions and prices, for which opportunity was given today when the report was tabled in the commons, shows that it is a mine of information bearing on the recent increase in the cost of living in meat and dairy products.

The statement made in the summary sent out last night were misleading in one respect. Owing to the late hour at which access to the report was obtained and the consequent hurried synopsis made, a footnote in Mr. O'Connor's table of quantities, costs and prices on last year's cold storage explains that the "margin" which he gives between cost price and selling price represents the gross profit and not the net profit. It includes all expenses of storing, overhead charges and any other expenses incurred by the cold storage companies from the time the commodity enters the warehouse until it reaches the persons to whom they sell, plus, of course, the net profit. In other words, it represents the total charge imposed on the consumer by the cold storage companies until it gets into the hands of grocers or wholesale dealers.

Gross Profits
Consequently, says the Wm. Davies Company, for instance, made a profit of five million on bacon alone last year and the Matthews Blackwell company a million and a half dollars must be interpreted as meaning gross profits.

An investigation is now under way by the information already obtained accurately as possible what amount should be deducted from this gross profit to represent the overhead interest on capital investment, etc. It is stated that the deduction for these charges will average considerably less than one cent per pound, according to the information already obtained.

OTTAWA, July 13.—W. A. O'Connor, cost of living commissioner, in a statement this afternoon regarding the profits of packers and dealers in meat, says that when he refers to "margin," it does not necessarily mean "profits."

Margin rather is the difference between the cost of bacon up to the time it goes into storage, the shipping time and its final wholesale selling price. Storage cost of selling, however, that the packers and dealers are concerned with. The company is 5.05 cents per pound and of the Matthews concern 3.63.

Company's Statement
MONTREAL, July 13.—The net profits of the William Davies Company do not appear, according to figures produced in parliament to be the same as are found by the cost of living commissioner. The St. John's Telegram correspondent telegraphs.

"Last year this firm paid to the treasury $100,000 for representing one-quarter of profit and one-half of the total profits of over 7 per cent were placed at $438,492," adds the correspondent.

RESULTS OF THE MISSION WERE GOOD; BALFOUR

U. S. Realized It Was Symbolic Of Great Departure In History.

LONDON, July 13.—"We did our best and received the best," said Foreign Secretary Balfour in referring in an address today to the visit of the British mission to the United States. "Never was a mission so kindly treated by those to whom it was sent; never was hospitality offered more graciously."

"The results of the mission were good, because the great people of the United States realized the mission was symbolic of a great new departure in the history of the world. They were able to grasp what it all meant, not only for the present, but for the future of the world. They saw what German militarism meant with clear vision and entered the war with an unselfish motive. I rejoice that we have with us such a country as the United States, such men as President Wilson."

Attached to the official programme was a printed slip saying: "Should the proceedings be interrupted by the approach of a hostile aircraft, whereof ample notice will be given, it is suggested that the guests adjourn to the crypt beneath the Guild Hall."

ATTENDANCE FIGURES

Paid admissions	12,882	7,157
Receipts at gate	$5,673.75	$2,852.75
Grand stand admissions	10,782	2,940
Receipts from grand stand	$2,094.55	$645.20
Reserved seats	$1,266.50	$592.25

Yesterday there were 5,739 passes honored and approximately 1,500 children under 12 admitted free, making the total attendance 20,121, and 1,800 vehicles, including the parade, were admitted.

GERMAN EMPEROR HAS QUIT THRONE, SAYS THE REPORT

LONDON, July 14.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Amsterdam says that rumors are current that Emperor William has abdicated in favor of his son Prince Joachim. The rumors are unconfirmed and must be taken with a reserve.

REICHSTAG ON STRIKE; HAS SUSPENDED

No Work Until The Situation Is Cleared Up.

HINDENBURG HAS BEEN SUMMONED

Crisis Evidently Result Of Demand For Reforms.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
COPENHAGEN, July 13.—Serious news came from Berlin late today. The Reichstag has gone on strike and the members have decided to suspend the labors both of the full house and the main committee until the political situation is cleared up. This leaves the war credit bill in abeyance.

Emperor William has summoned Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of the general staff, and General Ludendorff, the chief quartermaster general, for a conference.

This news should be interpreted in connection with intimations that the German government has decided to refuse to parliamentarize the cabinet and to appoint a new cabinet in connection with the adoption of a peace resolution.

AMSTERDAM, July 13.—According to a semi-official dispatch received here from Berlin today, the report of the resignation of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, is untrue.

95 PER CENT OF AVERAGE NINE YEARS

Dominion Government Report On State Of Wheat And Oats Crop.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, July 13.—A press bulletin issued by the census and statistics offices shows that for wheat, oats, hay and clover, the areas under the crops are somewhat higher than the figures of a month ago, when the seedling had not been completed, but for other crops involving barley, rye, peas and mixed grains, they are lower.

In the prairie provinces, the spring, followed by cold and dry weather, has kept all crops backward, but prospects are bright in all crops. The Peace River district reports crops to be one week ahead of last year, with prospects of a bumper harvest.

Converting the figures for all Canada from percentages of the standard or full crop to a scale in which 100 represents the average condition on June 30 of the past nine years, 1908-1916, the condition becomes for wheat, oats, rye and barley as follows: Fall wheat, 86; spring wheat, 95; all wheat, 90; oats, 95; rye, 84; barley, 97. That is to say, if conditions between June 30 and the date of harvest be not abnormal, the anticipated yield per acre is 14 per cent. below average for fall wheat, five per cent. below for spring wheat, all wheat and oats; 6 per cent. for rye and 6 per cent. for barley; hay, clover and alfalfa, show good promise, excepting in Manitoba, where the condition is as low as 82 per cent. of the standard.

U. S. STEEL SHIP BUILDING
WASHINGTON, July 13.—Announcement was made today by Major General Goethals, manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet construction, that on Monday he will offer contracts for the construction of two government shipbuilding plants to produce 2,400 steel merchant ships.

THREE MINES AT DRUMHELLER NOW CLOSED

Unorganized Part District 18 Demands Same Terms.

OPERATORS REFUSE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

Rosedale, Star, Drumheller Blacklisted—150 Men Out.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
CALGARY, July 13.—With 160 men out in the Drumheller lignite field to night, three mines closed and other mines expected to go on a strike next week, there was a demand in District Number 18 for the return of Commissioner Armstrong, who has gone to Ottawa. A variety of causes have tended to make the coal field restless here since the long strike which ended through the Greene and Armstrong negotiations.

Operators Opposed
The negotiations were practically closed with the United Mine Workers and little attention was given to the unorganized portion of the field. As a result, since the negotiations, the unorganized miners have been demanding from the operators the same concessions and rates that the government rules were satisfactory for the district. The operators in the Drumheller field have been refused the right of organization or affiliation with a union.

The three mines out are the Rosedale, Western Commercial and Poca-hontas plants.

A statement issued by President Graham of the district miners yesterday asks all miners to stay away from the Drumheller field. His black-list includes also the Rosedale, Star and Drumheller mines at Drumheller.

600 Men Employed
In all about 600 miners are employed in the Drumheller field.

The spread of the discontent with working conditions in the lignite field is due in no small part to a personal altercation between President Graham and Thomas Drumheller, operator.

When the crisis arose between the miners and operators, President Graham was called to the scene to adjust the differences. After obtaining the permission of the superintendent of the mine to visit the property, Graham was met by the operator and a war of words followed. Graham was refused permission to organize the mine.

According to Graham, who returned last night, an appeal was made to the operator on patriotic grounds to permit the field to be organized and the coal production to be continued according to the government program.

The miners will petition that the field be taken over by the government and operated according to the Greene agreement.

WINNIPEG MAN NEW PRESIDENT POSTAL CLERKS

Dominion Officers Elected At Convention—A. M. Venables, Calgary, For Alberta

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
WINNIPEG, July 13.—H. H. Venables, of Winnipeg, was elected president of the Postal Clerks' association of the Dominion of Canada at the concluding conference of the fifty-third annual convention today, and Toronto was selected as the meeting place for next year.

The other Dominion officers elected were: Vice-president, A. E. Crate, Toronto; secretary-treasurer, J. W. Green, Winnipeg; editor of Postal Journal, L. P. Phipps, Winnipeg; and organizing secretary, S. W. Foster, Saskatoon.

The following provincial vice-presidents were elected: British Columbia, D. McCulloch, Vancouver; Alberta, A. M. Venables, Calgary; Saskatchewan, H. S. Bell, Moose Jaw; Manitoba, F. R. Sutton, Winnipeg; Ontario, E. H. Hynes, Toronto; Quebec, H. Jacques, Montreal; New Brunswick, T. E. Walsh, St. John.

H. L. Doyle, of Prince Albert, was elected representative of semi-staff offices, and the appointment of a parliamentary secretary was left in the hands of the executive.

It was officially announced that the increase of salaries was practically assured, and it is confidently expected that the supplementary estimates to be submitted to the house of commons during the present session will make provision for this.

POLICE GUARD SHOT; MESSENGER ROBBED

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, July 13.—Peter Buflin, a policeman, was shot and killed today by one of four men who attacked the officer while he was escorting a bank messenger carrying a bag of $100 in nickels. The robbers escaped with the bag of money in another automobile.

In their haste to escape after the shooting the robbers overlooked being shot $10,000 and $12,000 which was in the messenger's box with the bag of nickels.

Feeling Of Unrest In Several Western States.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The far west continued today to align itself against the disturbances caused by the Industrial Workers of the World. State county and city officials and some citizens on their behalf, were active, following the action of the Arizona legislature, which has passed a law forbidding the I. W. W. to be marching from the north, and during the night deputies stood guard over all roads leading into both counties.

From Butte, Mont., where the present situation first gained prominence, reports seemingly indicate a settlement of the no strike within the near future. Dissension has broken out among the different striking elements and a mass meeting will be held today to discuss the situation.

The International Timberworkers' union, a branch of the I. W. W., which had threatened a strike in the rich lumbering district about Gray's Harbor, Wash., failed to meet mill men and loggers at a conference they previously had demanded to be held near the town of Gray's Harbor.

The employers declared last night no overtures had been made since the general demand for a conference had been made. The men who struck in sympathy will return to their tasks.

But yesterday a strike was an impressive army of sightseers. The great majority of them crowded into the grandstand and the grandstand enclosure. There were 2,500 paid admissions at the gate and 10,782 paid admissions to the grandstand. It was a terrific jam and if any more had come along it would have taxed the ingenuity of the management to have provided them with standing room, let alone seats.

Stopped Ticket Sale
Of course, the ticket sale for the grandstand itself. Every reserved seat was taken long before the races began. The sale of tickets stopped. The cash receipts from the sale of reserved seats was $1,266.50 which is the ultimate limit of capacity. At that hundredth of the grandstand was sold and on the steps. There was a solid mass of humanity from end to end and from front to rear and the "bleacher" section was similarly jammed.

Another year the Exhibition management will be well advised, when such a rush is anticipated, to open the grandstand box office a long time in the morning and to consider selling reservations for particular days ahead, as is the practice in theatres. Two queues of people waited a long time in the morning and waiting for the office to open and were disappointed in the end. The endured quite a needless discomfort.

SERVICE BILL PASSES THRO' COMMITTEE

Report Stage Deferred Until It Appears In Printed Form.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, July 13.—9:30 this evening the preamble of the Military Service Bill was adopted in committee of the house. All the clauses of the bill have previously been passed.

The bill was not reported, however, because Hon. Frank Oliver, on behalf of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was not present, said that it remained in committee until tomorrow, in order that members might have an opportunity of seeing the bill amended in printed form.

There was considerable opposition to an amendment moved by Sir Robert Borden exempting divinity students as well as clergy and members of religious orders. Members on both sides of the house objected to the proposal. Col. Currie thought that exemption should be given to medical students rather than divinity students. The amendment was adopted.

When the preamble was taken up, Hon. Frank Oliver said that for bill necessary because recruiting had been killed by faulty administration of military affairs. Recruiting, he said, had died a natural death, when it was decided to break up battalions. The member for Edmonton gave a list of sixteen reasons why he considered recruiting had failed.

Sir Edward Kemp in reply said the battalion system had brought good results and that the member for Edmonton had not criticized it during the two years that the battalion system was in force.

BATTLESHIP VANGUARD BLOWN UP

Internal Explosion While At Anchor Causes Disaster.

ONLY THREE CREW ON BOARD SAVED

Launched in 1909—Before War Had 870 Men.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, July 13.—The British battleship Vanguard, 19,250 tons, blew up and sank on July 9, says an official statement issued tonight by the British admiralty. The Vanguard carried a crew normally of 725 men.

LONDON, July 13.—An internal explosion while the ship was at anchor caused the disaster to the Vanguard. Only three men of those on board survived and one of them has since died. Twenty-four officers and 71 men, however, were not on board at the time of the explosion. The official statement reads:

"H. M. S. Vanguard, Captain James D. Dick, blew up while at anchor on the night of July 9, 1917, as the result of an internal explosion. The ship sank immediately and there were only three survivors among those aboard ship at the time of the disaster—one officer and two men. The officer has since died. There were, however, 24 officers and 71 men not on board the ship at the time, thus leaving the total number of survivors to 97."

"A full inquiry has been ordered."

The British battleship Vanguard displaced 19,250 tons and her complement before the war was 870 men. The Vanguard belonged to the St. Vincent class of dreadnoughts and was launched in March, 1909. The Vanguard was 535 feet long with a beam of 84 feet and a draught of 27 feet. Her armament consisted of ten 12-inch guns, eighteen 4-inch guns and four 3-pounders, in addition to three torpedo tubes.

20,000 PASS TURNSTILES ON FRIDAY
Biggest Attendance Of Week At Exhibition—Motor Races Great Magnet.

Twenty thousand people, by a very moderate computation, swarmed into the exhibition grounds yesterday, by the biggest crowd of the week. It was not the largest single day's attendance in the Fair's history but it lacked but very little of equalling the record of August 13, 1914, when there were 17,000 paid admissions at the gate and there were thousands more passes out than there were given this year. That was just after war had broken out and patriotic enthusiasm had turned out en masse to cheer the soldiers.

Grandstand Jammed

Eager To See Races
The race track was lined, four or five deep with spectators, eager to see the great races go thundering by, with a roar of their exhausts and clouds of dust rising where they tore down the track. The excitement rose to fever heat and the winners were cheered with frantic enthusiasm.

When Miss Stinson appeared to make her afternoon aeroplane flight the city and mounted police had a big job to clear a sufficient space for the machine to make its run before ascending. Miss Stinson gave a fine exhibition, which she repeated in the evening. She dropped from a high bomb, which was supposed to be aimed at the trenches. The wind caught the missile however, and it came down in the midst of the crowd just to westward of the judges' stand.

Farwell Ascent
Miss Stinson will make her farewell ascent today, not only in Edmonton, but on the Canadian fair circuit. She is leaving for the United States where she will assist in training army fliers.

The fair ends officially at 4 o'clock today. After that time no tickets will be sold and entrance to the grounds will be free. The Midway shows will be shipped to the next place on the tour.

The largest, handsomest and most striking automobile parade that Edmonton ever saw, including private cars and floats representing commerce and industry, passed through the city streets yesterday. There were cars of every sort and size, beautifully decorated. The spectacle made a blaze of color, of bunting, of flags and greenery. Enthusiastic crowds lined the streets and the honking of motor horns and the plaudits of the throngs filled the air. It was a remarkable demonstration of the growth and development of the automobile business here and a tribute to the skill and taste of the decorators.

The parade was held under the auspices of the Edmonton Automobile Club, whose officers handled it to perfection. The Exhibition association assisted by sending ticket sellers and checkers to the mobilization points, who made arrangements for facilitating the speedy entrance of the cars of the fair grounds.

On the arrival at the grounds, the parade was greeted with round after round of cheers from the crowds that packed the stands to a point that made the traditional sardine in a howling wilderness in comparison. The beautifully decked cars circled the racetrack and the applause which greeted each came in waves, like salvos of machine gun fire.

After the public inspection, the line turned into the central enclosure, where they were drawn up. Here the judges began their work and a difficult enough task they found it. None of the adjudicators live in Edmonton and they were able to pass judgment with strict impartiality. They were:

PLANS LARGE RANCH IN B.C. PEACE BLOCK

J. F. Gundy of Firm of Gundy & Gundy, Toronto, Goes North

J. F. Gundy, of the firm of Gundy & Gundy, Toronto, went to Grande Prairie on Tuesday's train and will proceed from there to Pouce Coupe in the B.C. block, where he will look over the large land holdings of the company with the view of immediately placing several hundred head of cattle on the ranges now lying idle.

The Gundy & Gundy Co. own a block of thirty-five thousand acres of land just south of the B.C. Block and another of ninety-five thousand acres north and west of the block on the north side of the Peace. This land was acquired years ago from the British Columbia Government and is fine grazing and farming land. It is not the intention of the company to place this land on the market at present but they will develop on their large ranges the cattle industry as fast as conditions warrant.

On the tract north of the Peace there are several lakes out of which streams run and around these lakes are extensive hay fields. These hay fields will be cut this season and sheds will be erected for winter protection. Breaking will also be done with a view of sowing feed for next season. It is the intention of the company to make of the two large bodies of land modern ranches for the production of meat and stock byproducts, everything in the form of improvements will be of a substantial nature and the stock will be of the best breeds for the purpose.

Mr. Gundy will be absent about two weeks on this trip and upon his return will complete arrangements for going ahead with the work.

Collin Fraser and son, Frederick, the former a well known old timer of Ft. Chipewyan, came down on the Athabasca Tuesday.

Great Quantities of Driftwood Carried Down on Waters of Peace

Huge Masses of Debris Give Some Idea of the Great Area Drained by Peace River—All Kinds of Timber From Mountain Regions Pass to Great Slave Lake and on to Arctic.

Dunvegan, July 11.—The usual June flood of the Peace has now passed and this year as before, the crest of the passing waters brought down an immense string of drift and debris. Timbers that have been centuries in growth were undermined by the ever changing waters and toppled over into the stream to be carried away toward the Arctic ocean.

There is nothing that gives a better idea of the enormous area drained by the headwaters of the Peace than this annual passing of debris. For ten days and nights a stream of logs, both dry and green, follows the swiftest current from bank to bank. Sometimes the mass of timber flows in such close formation that a person could walk on it as safely as though he were on a raft of saw logs.

Every stream from the Rockies feeds into the Peace its quota of the drift and every kind of timber that grows in the northern clime falls victim to the waters. Islands and flats that formed during the last century and on which monarchs of the forests had grown to full stature, crumble when spring sends the muddy, angry stream waters against them. They wash away as though they were sand. Then the tall poplar, the aspen, the spruce and the birch all feel the soil slipping from their roots and soon the tumble one by one into the river.

Where does all this timber go to? Is a question asked by the new comer. The writer has been along the Arctic coast at the mouth of the Mackenzie river and he has seen the Great Slave Lake where the Peace rests awhile before joining the great stream that leads to the sea, and the final resting place of the timber stream that annually flows towards the north.

High quantities of lumber is lodged on the sand bars and islands of the streams and an immense quantity of it goes into the Slave Lake, where it is blown about by the shifting winds under stormy seas. It is high and dry along the shores of the lake. For miles and miles these drift are piled, in some cases twenty feet high.

When the drift of the Mackenzie reaches its mouth and passes into the sea it carries wood from Athabasca, the Peace, the Liard, the Arctic Red, the Bear river and the Peel. Its burden represents the growth of a third of Canada and one can form no idea of the immense quantity this northern river throws into the Arctic ocean unless he has seen for himself. Whalers encounter great quantities of it. The lumber tows about on the waves of the sea until a storm born in the ice berg regions of northern Siberia tosses it upon the shores of the Arctic. There it piles high and tangled, the huge logs care of every vestige of limb and bark.

Mrs. Gladys of Edmonton came up last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dodge, at Bluekey.

Miss Katharine Hopper and Miss Agnes Stewart left last week for Edmonton, the former to join her mother and the latter to spend part of her holidays.

Corporal and Mrs. Churchill left last week for Fort Simpson, where the former is stationed. They were accompanied by Sgt. Joy, who is returning to his post at Fort Fitzgerald.

A. C. Carrick, depot agent, has returned after a three weeks' holiday.

Master Garth Johnston is spending a week of his holidays at Anderson's Dairy Farm "River Heights."

Justice C. A. Stewart, Hon. A. G. MacKay, Dr. Forin and H. H. Parlee are all at Peace River in connection with the Molke trial.

R. N. Whillans is going down to Edmonton Saturday on a business trip. The thermometer registered 81 in the shade on Tuesday and 91 on Wednesday. It's hot, but splendid growing weather.

Mrs. C. C. Sinclair and young daughter, Ramona, came up from Calgary last week. They were accompanied by Miss Maude Riley of Edmonton, who will spend the holidays here.

Sheriff and Mrs. Peter Gunn of Edmonton were guests in the village. They will leave for Edmonton on Friday.

Mrs. R. A. MacLeod entertained informally on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lorine A. Russell entertained at a very informal, pleasant, little dance on Monday evening. Those present included Miss Kelly, Miss Hareyett, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. MacLeod, Mrs. Grimshaw and Messrs. Sutherland, Leitch, J. D. McKenzie and Marshall.

Mrs. Bassett, wife of Assistant Commissioner Bassett, Hudson's Bay Co., and small son have just returned from a trip down the river on the Athabasca. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Patmore of Peace River, the former called to go to Edmonton.

Mr. H. A. Mackie, federal Conserva-

live candidate for East Edmonton, was another passenger on the Athabasca, which docked last Tuesday. Mr. Macdon has been on to Fort Vermilion.

Rev. W. Graham has left Peace River permanently. He went out on Wednesday's train, his destination being Toronto, where his wife and baby have preceded him.

Miss Louisa Hareyett is spending a few weeks with her sister, Miss Hareyett, who has charge of the school at Griffin Creek. The latter spent the week-end at the Crossing.

Mrs. Field entertained at Bridge on Tuesday evening for Sheriff and Mrs. Gunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rae and Master Gordon moved over from Spirit River this week. Mr. Rae received many congratulations on the recent election when he was the successful Liberal candidate.

Mrs. J. F. Price received for the first time since coming to Peace River on Monday afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. Grimshaw, Mrs. E. Carlisle and Miss Jean Whillans.

Mrs. Jack Barry left on Wednesday on an extended trip east.

Mr. Brich Schaefer, who has been visiting in Edmonton, returned to the Crossing Wednesday.

Sheriff and Mrs. Monteith of Calgary were passengers to Peace River on Wednesday's train.

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETS

The problem of a matron for the Peace River hospital was the one that confronted the board which met at the United Presbyterian Church last Tuesday evening at which there were nine members present, including, Al. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Carlisle, W. H. Wilson, Gerald Bannin, P. Frederick, T. A. Norris, L. H. Doherty and D. Johnston. Miss McCrae, the former matron was suddenly called to her former home, Saskatoon, because of the illness of her mother.

During her absence the hospital was taken in charge by Miss Toffey, her assistant. The board wired Miss McCrae asking her if she would be able to come back and her answer stated that she would be the first of August. Although there were several applications at hand it was decided to wait until Miss McCrae could get back as she had been thoroughly satisfactory.

Another matter taken up was the completion of the contract of the hospital extension which had been delayed because of a patient who was seriously ill and could not therefore stand the noise of building. This matter was left in the hands of a committee, Messrs. Johnston. The monthly report of the matron was then read.

BEZANSON.

Miss Ida M. Colby, Bezanon's popular school teacher, is spending several weeks in the Capital City.

Christie Bros. of Vancouver, are new arrivals, they have located south of the Wapiti River, two miles above Bezanon, where they are erecting a large house. They brought fifty head of cows and a full equipment of farm machinery with them.

Eight northwestern farmers are looking this district over and expect to locate homesteads.

Rev. Capt. Arts is soon to arrive from Fort William, Ont., with a large colony of homesteaders.

The farmers in this district are very optimistic over the crop outlook. No part of the Peace River country has a better showing for a bumper crop.

The government ferry is not running at present owing to high water of the Smoky river having loosened the cable supports.

Patrick McCann, government ferryman, left for Edmonton last Saturday, having been called there by a telegram informing him of the death of Miss Mary Jane Ruawe, to whom he was to have been married in the very near future.

Mr. McCann has the sympathy of this entire community.

Bezanon, July 10th.

OTHER BOYS MAY HAVE DETONATORS

Returned Soldiers Suggest That Parents Institute A Quiz On The Subject.

Young Love, whose hand was severely injured by the explosion of a detonator, picked up at the trenches at the fair, has intimated that other boys are in possession of these wicked little explosives, which are capable of doing great harm. Parents are requested to quiz their offspring and find out if any of them are packing detonators about which may be a source of danger to themselves and all about them.

RESULT QUAKER OATS

GUSSING CONTEST
The correct weight of the sack of flour in the Quaker Oats Co. contest at the exhibition was 104 1/2 lbs. There were over 2000 guesses and six guessed 104 lbs. The nearest and the earliest guess was that of 104 guessed by Mrs. A. Jones of 11311 81st street at 8 p.m. on July 9th. She wins the sack of flour. The next nearest and next earliest, Mrs. H. Davis of 8226 120th avenue at 8 p.m. on July 9th. She gets second prize of 24 lb. sack of Quaker flour. The other four guesses of 104 lbs. were of later date.

SPECIAL TRAIN IS TAKEN NORTH FULL OF CATTLE

Stock Industry of Peace River Country Gains by Importations

Something of the magnitude of the stock industry of the Peace River country can be gained by the load on one freight train which went north over the E.D. & B.C. railroad this week. There were eleven cars of stock in all and the train was sent north as a special freight. Some three hundred and fifty head of cows were in the cars, in most cases the stock were handled through the Edmonton Stock Yards.

The McLaughlin ranch of Lake Saskatchewan was the heaviest purchaser. Thirty-five head going there, George R. Rolston of Spirit River had one car of thirty head; J. J. Gray, of Wingham, a station just west of McLennan, received two cars with seventy head. S. Sanderson Peace River, one car, H. Sutherland, Clairmont, took seventy head north. P. Mark, likewise of Clairmont shipped 70 head; O. W. Slater of Grand Prairie received eighteen head; J. P. Lambert, of Wingham, eighteen head. H. P. Dopfield, a new settler in the Peace River section took eight head north with him and C. F. Twombly of Clairmont was the purchaser of twenty-six head.

The Edmonton Stock Yards report a large demand from the north country for cows. In most cases the buyers are co-operative buyers through the Government Cow Bill arrangements.

JUDICIAL PARTY MAKE A TOUR OF THE NORTHLAND

Judge Morrison and Party At Grande Prairie, Spirit River and Peace River

Peace River, July 12.—Judge Morrison and party consisting of Sheriff Peter Gunn, Mrs. Gunn, Mr. Laurence and Miss MacLean, of Edmonton, arrived here Friday evening after visiting the surrounding districts.

They left Edmonton on the 29th June, reaching Grande Prairie in time for the sports and they were very ably surprised with the size of the town and the large, up-to-date, fair grounds. There was a splendid attendance at the sports and there being over 2,000 the second day.

From Grande Prairie they motored to Lake Saskatchewan, Clairmont, Bear Lake and Mr. Gunn's old trading post where he discovered the remnants of his old cook stove, this being the first stove brought into the country. It reminded him of the days and the time when he was the only white man in the country. Later they took the train for Spirit River, another nicely situated little town in a splendid farming centre and where Mr. Gunn has his ranch.

After a short visit there they proceeded by motor to Peace River a distance of 40 miles, finding the roads in excellent condition and thoroughly enjoying the trip throughout.

The judge, sheriff, with Mr. Laurence and other places in the north where court is to be held. While here they are staying at the Royal Hotel.

HIGH PRAIRIE.

Bulletin Correspondence.
Mrs. A. E. Key returned from a fortnight's visit to Edmonton on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McAllister visited Grand Prairie last week.

The Red Cross picnic and concert on the 2nd was a pronounced success in every way. The weather was ideal and practically the whole settlement was in attendance.

The opening feature of the day was a monster parade under command of Mr. Spaulding, and consisting of the band, the school children, mounted and carrying the flags of the British Colonies and the Allies, the school band and numerous wagons.

Then there were sports for everybody, including a baseball game, married men vs single men. The married men won by a small score.

The concert in the evening drew a crowded house and satisfied the most critical.

The proceeds of the day amounted to $160.00.

High Prairie, July 7th.

GRIFFIN CREEK.

Bulletin Correspondence.

Quite a lot of Griffin Creek people attended the sports at Bear Lake. Griffin Creek people showed appreciation of the Liberal railroad policy by giving Mr. Rae a large majority, which would have been better had all the voters been out.

Mr. Geo. Hoadby who held the last meeting here paved the way for the Liberal candidate as he spent his time criticizing the government, forgetting to mention what his party would or would not do if they were in power.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark, on June 30, a fine big boy.

Mrs. Geo. D. Batts and young son returned from Peace River last week. Miss Hareyett will continue teaching our school the balance of the summer.

Mr. Sellers, who has been spending a few days in the district, has returned to his home at Nanton.

Griffin Creek, July 2nd.

OVER 19,000

The average combined circulation of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Bulletin for the week ending Saturday, July 7th, was:

19,475 Copies

This circulation represents a buying power greater by far than is offered by any other single newspaper in this territory and is one which Edmonton merchants and business men generally should take full advantage of.

Edmonton's normal and legitimate trading territory is considerably greater than the territory from which she actually gets business. It is a matter of fact easily ascertainable that other cities break into trading territory which by reason of accessibility and distance should belong to Edmonton.

Edmonton businesses can only hope to prosper as they attract trade from outside the city. We cannot live by trading only with each other within the city, and it is in attracting business from this large and prosperous outside constituency that the 19,000-plus circulation of The Bulletin can be used with good effect.

We should be glad to tell you how at a very low cost you can use this large combined circulation to your great benefit.

The Daily Poem

MOTHERS.

Mother, who bore them underneath your heart,
And loved the baby limbs of your strong sons,
And dry-eyed, watched the men-at-arms depart,
To face the thudding guns;
Ye, who will never see your darlings more,
How do ye hunger for a single glance,
And ye, who hourly dread the tidings sore,
From Flanders, or from France;

Be comforted, sad Mothers; All your pain
Of certain sorrow, or of coming
Is known to His for our advantage slain
Upon the bitter cross—

The Son of Mary, Who in His last hour,
Turned to His mother, thinking of her weal,
Son's love to mother's answering with power,
The pangs of death to heal.
—Archibald MacMeehan.

Miss Margaret Morris and Miss Evelyn A. Cantin are leaving Sunday for a month's visit to the coast cities.

Mrs. Pitcher and Mrs. Lawden were of great assistance to Mrs. Robert Knell at the mother's and baby's reception on Friday, which is under the auspices of the Victorian Order of Nurses, at the fair.

The Johnstone Walker Co., Ltd., have a delightful display of new and original designs in suits, furs, dresses, shoes and other feminine fancies at the exhibition and it would not be well to miss this fine exhibit. The booth is most attractively decorated with palms, flowers, rugs and rich furniture. In the fur department, coats, neck pieces and muffs show up well against the dainty street and evening gowns. The shoes are irresistible, and show many new and desirable lines. Combinations of gray and sand were very pretty and styles of all black, all brown and all red to be worn with suits were most attractive.

Mrs. O. A. Pearce and daughter, Miss Louise, have left for Hebron, Indiana, to visit Mrs. Pearce's mother, Mrs. Hall Bates, and sister, Mrs. Tracy Titus, before the latter leaves with her husband, Lieut. Titus, for military service in France.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elliott, of Busby, are visiting the exhibition in company with their youngest son, Pte. Charles Elliott, who is home on furlough while convalescing from wounds received in France.

Mr. Hayes is on a tour through the coast, visiting all the branches which sell the products of the White Star Manufacturing Co., which is affiliated with the McDonald-Cooper Company.

Mr. A. K. Putland, organist of McDougall Methodist church, has kindly consented to give an organ recital at seven o'clock Sunday evening before the regular service for the benefit of the out-of-town people and week-end guests. This recital will be very desirable, and will be held in the church, especially by those who do not get the opportunity of hearing a pipe organ often.

The first public kitchen run in England by the military of food was opened a few weeks ago in London, a big crowd assembling in the vicinity of Westminster Bridge road on the occasion. The kitchen was inaugurated by Rev. C. E. A. Pocock and Rev. M. L. Wright. This is the first unit meeting of the season. The congregation interested in the movement were the English Presbyterians and the Methodists.—Wetaskiwin Press.

Rev. Dr. Keith, of Edmonton, who conducted the service at the Chautauqua tent on Sunday evening last Sunday, remained to enjoy the attractions of the exhibition during the week. Dr. Keith is the president of the Red Deer Ladies' College, now in Edmonton, which has as lady principal Miss Margaret Miller, E. A., of Pembroke, Ont., whom Medicine Hat citizens will remember as being an efficient member of the teaching staff some years ago. Young ladies planning for their college work in Edmonton next year will have the opportunity of conferring with Dr. Keith this week.—Medicine Hat News.

There is an interesting exhibit in connection with the Technical High school work at the Art building, along with the Art exhibit. Though this display has not a prominent place and might be overlooked it should commend itself very highly to not only experts but to all interested in the least, with such work. The Calgary press made favorable mention of this exhibit. The drawings which came second in the Architectural class are by a young man who has just completed his second year in this department, Albert Koch. The plans are those for the Returned Soldiers' Balmorhall, to be built at Alberta Beach, Lac Ste. Anne. Probably a list of the prizes won in the last year or two would show better what this school is doing along this line. Mr. John Pinnington is the head of the department. Total number of prizes and diplomas won by the Architectural and Mechanical Drafting Department, which includes two diplomas from Calgary, 1916, forty-one. Prizes won at Calgary exhibition June-July, 1917: Best Collection Exhibit, 1st prize; Best Individual Set Mechanical Drawings, 1st, 2nd and 3rd Prizes won at the present fair which appeared in these columns numbered eight, making a grand total of prizes won to date in open competitions, fifty-three.

Miss Katherine Stinson was entertained at supper on Friday evening by the resident girls of the Y. W. C. A. This was a very happy event for those who were fortunate enough to be present. A long table was arranged out on the lawn, which accommodated some thirty-five or more. The dining was ideal and the evening perfect for just such an occasion. The cool green grass under foot and the row of trees with their dense foliage reflecting the setting sun on their shiny leaves, the snowy linen on the table and the delicious viands thereon, with the merry faces of the party all went to make up a charming picture. Miss Stinson drove up in her splendid Overland and was accompanied from the fair grounds by Miss Edna Kella, who introduced her to the girls and members of the Y staff, Miss Bradshaw.

MARKS FREED ON SEDITION CHARGE

Magistrate Barclay Orders Accused to Report to His Unit on Monday

Walter S. Marks was discharged by Magistrate Barclay in the police court Friday morning. He had been charged with sedition and with creating a disturbance in connection with the fracas in the Bijou theatre on the night of June 17th.

When giving judgment the magistrate expressed the opinion that if the soldiers had been in charge of some higher officer the trouble would not have occurred and also said he did not think it was wise on the part of the police to attempt to hold such a meeting during times of war. He stated that officials of the Bijou theatre had complained to him of receiving threats from individual returned soldiers to the effect that the theatre would be burned down if such a meeting was allowed to be held in there again.

On the charge of being absent without leave from his unit Marks was ordered to report on Monday morning to Major McFadden at the barracks.

In accordance with requests made by a number of readers, The Bulletin has decided to run the questions and answers the same days in future in this department instead of as at present giving the answers on the day following the questions. As in the past all inquiries addressed to this department of the Bulletin will be given the most careful attention.

TODAY'S INQUIRIES

Is there a frosting which never hardens and does not crystallize?
To one cup sugar add three table-spoonfuls cold water and the white of an egg dropped in without beating. Put these into upper part of double boiler and have the water in the lower part boiling. Beat for eight minutes. Flavor to taste. It is about the consistency of whipped cream and can be used as filling.

What is a good recipe for chesecake pie?
Make a rich pastry and line a deep pie plate with it. Grate a cupful of Neufchâtel cheese and beat light with the yolks of three eggs, four table-spoonfuls powdered sugar, four table-spoonfuls granulated sugar and a tablespoon cornstarch. After it is smooth turn in a lump of melted butter, the grated half of a tart apple and the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Turn the mixture into the pie dish and bake for three-quarters of an hour. If liked, some currants can be sprinkled into the pie when it is half done.

Please give directions for making split-pea soup.
Wash and carefully pick over a heaping cupful of yellow split peas and soak them over night in cold water. Also, cook the bones from roast pork in two quarts of water, allowing them to simmer all day. The next morning skim off the fat and cook the peas in the stock, adding two onions cut up, seasoning and a celery stalk. Cook slowly for two hours, then run through a sieve, pressing and pounding the peas. If necessary, thicken with butter and flour and serve with croutons. Croutons are made by cutting bread into cubes, placing in the oven to brown and sprinkling with butter.

What can be done to remove blood stains from gold colored satin?
Try an application of very thick common starch (cold), and after allowing it to dry, brush off. If there are still evidences of the stain, repeat the treatment.

Is there any way of removing iron rust marks on white muslin?
They can be removed with oxalic acid diluted in water. Allow the acid to remain on only a few minutes, then rinse out.

What are the directions for making gasoline soap?
Cut three bars of white laundry soap into a ten-pound pail filled with cold water and place on stove until dissolved. Remove and when cool add one large cupful gasoline and stir well.

same age very dearly. This boy has gone to school as long as I have, but I do not know him to talk to. When he sees me either he goes past, where he works or on the street he smiles and looks at me. Can you tell me if this boy likes me that he smiles and looks at me when he sees me? There is another boy who loves me, he is older than I am and he wants to take me to a show every time, but I don't go, for I do not care for him. J. C. M.

You are a very little little girl to imagine yourself in love with this boy whom you have never even met. If he really wants to cultivate your acquaintance he will find some one to introduce him to you. In the meantime, if you wish to retain his respect, do not write him on the street.

Problem in Etiquette.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I expect to meet a young man whom I know personally, but have not seen for a couple of months. Is it proper for me to offer my hand when I meet him? If seated, should I rise when doing so? Please print my letter and your answer in your columns as soon as possible, as I expect to meet him the beginning of next week. A. D.

If you have not seen the young man for some time, it will seem more cordial if you offer him your hand in greeting. If you are in your own house you should by all means rise, otherwise it is not necessary, although to act on impulse and rise to greet any one who has not been seen for several months is never wrong.

Do Not Leave Her.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I have a young girl staying with me and since she came I have been invited to a tea and to a dinner. Should I accept the invitation and leave her at home, or should I take her with me? BEATRICE.

It would not be polite to go to the tea or dinner and leave your guest at home, but it would be perfectly correct to ask your hostess if you may bring her to the tea. When you receive the dinner, give the reason and perhaps the hostess will send her an invitation and ask you to reconsider your regret.

Economical Soups.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—In these days when the cost of living has increased so materially everything should be utilized if possible. I have found that very delicious soups can be made from the water in which some vegetables are boiled, added to a little stock. Such vegetables as carrots, tomatoes, onions, celery, potatoes and peas, for instance, Rice water and potato water should always be saved. The former will make cream soups, while the latter can be used in making bread.

(Mrs.) C. C. D.
Many thanks, Mrs. T. and Mrs. D. for your valuable suggestions.
Recipe for English Hot Pot.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Will you please publish a recipe for English hot pot?
Try the following: One pound pork chops, four or five onions, eight or nine potatoes; use brown earthen dish and slice potatoes; put a layer of potatoes in the bottom, then the meat, then the onions, then the potatoes (cut up) and so on; have the top layer of potatoes; salt, pepper and fill with hot water; bake in moderate oven two or three hours; cover with plate until last half hour.

ON DIT
That the advance in rice seems hardly necessary, since India's rice crop this year will be the greatest on record, being officially estimated at 34,072,000 long tons of cleaned grain.

That London reports tall hats with stiff brims like unto men's "beavers" of past times, are worn with no trimming but a steel buckle or a bead plaque, and other severe designs are in favor.

That many of the V.A.D.'s in England are complaining that they are not employed in auring, but are relegated wholly to the dirty work of the domestic department of the hospitals—scrubbing floors, washing up greasy utensils, etc.

That the newest jumper looks as if it were two separate garments, when in reality it is only one, giving the effect of a skirt and a jumper blouse, which, however, is attached to a straight foundation slip of soft Jap silk.

MATRON'S REPORT FOR JUNE
The number of patients treated in the Irene Cottage hospital during the month of June was 13, 12 male, 1 female of these 12 were admitted during the month, while one remained over from the month of May. Nine patients were discharged during the month as follows:

Seven medical and two surgical. Two operations were performed, one for tonsils and one for adenoids. There were three births during the month. No deaths occurred. Number of hospital days, 164. Daily average, 5 1/2 occupied beds.

NEW EVIDENCE TO BE ALLOWED IN LIQUOR CASE
Defense Counsel Argues Laymen Cannot Tell When Man is Drunk

After H. H. Robertson, counsel for Eugene Van Vleet, of the Pendennis Hotel, had secured re-opening of his defense in the police court Friday in the case where his client is charged with a breach of the liquor act, Crown prosecutor J. W. Hoffman announced that he will not appear in the case again. Van Vleet will come up on Monday morning.

The defense counsel was granted a re-opening to allow him to put in medical testimony in an endeavor to show that a policeman and layman is unable to form a correct judgment concerning when a man is drunk. Mr. Robertson in his argument pointed out that the police came to the court and testified that they had seen drunken men in the hotel but did not place them under arrest and also did not take their names, or could not identify them so that they could be brought to court to testify whether they were under the influence of liquor or not.

SALUTARY INVESTIGATION
LONDON, July 13.—Although the house of commons adjourned today without making a decision, it is virtually certain that the government will introduce a bill in to set up a salutary tribunal to investigate the Mesopotamian charges.

FINE WHEAT SAMPLE FROM PEACE RIVER.
A sample of wheat headed out and three feet tall has been received by the Bulletin from Mrs. B. Eaton, postmistress and pioneer settler on Griffin Creek, north of the Peace River. The wheat was sown on her farm at Griffin Creek on April 22nd and the sample plucked on July 8th.

Mrs. Eaton adds that the weather conditions have been favorable so far this year. All crops and gardens are looking well.

Notes of Doings at Summer School

At the summer school for teachers at the University of Alberta on Wednesday night, the Glee Club held a practice and among other things the "Soldier's Chorus" from Faust was rendered. The orchestra held a practice the same night. The orchestra consists of twelve pieces—three first violins, three second, cornet, bass, piano, trombone and two flutes. An informal dance was held on Thursday night from 7 to 10:30 o'clock. Ladies baseball and basketball leagues held practices during the week. The men students are arranging matches among themselves. The weekly half-holiday was enjoyed on Thursday and most of the students, in addition to the exhibition, took in the picture show, "In tolerance," at the Empire theatre, which was most interesting, not only for its dramatic and scenic display, but for its historic representation. The students are organizing an entertainment for the benefit of the returned soldiers at the Alberta college. A collection for the Red Cross fund was made yesterday and a large sum realized.

Arrangements are being made for an excursion to Lake St. Anne on Tuesday. It is expected that a sufficient number of students will avail themselves of the opportunity to enable the committee to charter a special train at a dollar a head.

Special courses for the teachers engaged in reading and marking examination papers of the pupils in grade eight and in the high school will commence on Monday, 16th inst.

Enemies of Tea

If tea is left open near oranges, soap, spices, matches, etc., the tea will take on the flavor of any of these articles.

In fact, tea absorbs odors as readily as does butter. This is because it becomes so dry and brittle in passing through the firing or drying oven that it becomes very sensitive to the moisture and odors in the air.

When loose in the chest or bin or bag it quickly loses flavor and strength. Tastes flat, weak, old; dear at any price.

This is why Red Rose is never sold in bulk—but always in sealed packages. The armour that keeps our dust and odors and keeps in the flavor and strength.

The price printed on the package protects you against overcharge. It is the lowest price for which a tea of Red Rose quality can be sold—a price which allows the grocer only a fair profit.

You will enjoy the distinctive flavor and rich strength of Red Rose Tea. Try a package.

AN ACT RESPECTING MILITARY SERVICE

Following is the full act respecting military service, which is now before the Ottawa House and which has been given its second reading—

BILL 75.

An Act Respecting Military Service.

Whereas by section ten of the Militia Act, chapter forty-one of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, it is enacted as follows: "All the male inhabitants of Canada, of the age of eighteen years and upwards, are liable to service in the Militia: Provided that the Governor-General may require all the male inhabitants of Canada, capable of bearing arms, to serve in the case of a levee en masse."

And whereas by section sixty-one of the said Act it is further enacted as follows: "The Governor in Council may place the Militia, or any part thereof, on active service anywhere in Canada, and also beyond Canada, for the defence thereof, at any time when it appears advisable so to do by reason of emergency."

And whereas by the said Act it is further enacted that, if at any time enough men do not volunteer to complete the quota required, the men so liable to serve shall be drafted by ballot;

And whereas the Canadian Expeditionary Force now engaged in active service overseas for the defence and security of Canada, the preservation of the Empire and of human liberty, it is necessary to provide reinforcements for such Expeditionary Force;

And whereas enough men do not volunteer to provide such reinforcements;

And whereas, by reason of the large number of men who have already left agricultural and industrial pursuits in Canada to join such Expeditionary Force as volunteers, and of the necessity of sustaining under such conditions the productivity of the Dominion, it is expedient to secure the men still required, not by ballot as provided in the Militia Act, but by selective draft;

Therefore His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be cited as The Military Service Act, 1917.

(2) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires: "Certificate" means a certificate of exemption from military service under this Act;

"The Militia Act" means the Militia Act and all regulations and orders made under the authority thereof;

"The Army Act" means the Army Act for the time being in force in the United Kingdom and all regulations and orders made under the authority thereof;

"Regulations" means the regulations made by the Governor in Council under the authority of this Act and directions made under such regulations;

"Minister" means the Minister of Justice.

2. (1) Every male British subject who comes within one of the classes described in section three of this Act shall be liable to military service.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall prevent any man from voluntarily enlisting in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, so long as voluntary enlistment in such Force is authorized.

3. (1) The men who are liable to be called out shall consist of ten classes described as follows:

Class 1—Those who have attained the age of twenty years and were born not earlier than the year 1894 and are unmarried, or are widowers but have no child.

Class 2—Those who were born in the years 1889 to 1893, both inclusive, and are unmarried, or are widowers but have no child.

Class 3—Those who were born in the years 1884 to 1888, both inclusive, and are unmarried, or are widowers but have no child.

Class 4—Those who have attained the age of twenty years and were born not earlier than the year 1879 and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 5—Those who were born in the years 1874 to 1878, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 6—Those who were born in the years 1869 to 1873, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 7—Those who were born in the years 1864 to 1868, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 8—Those who were born in the years 1859 to 1863, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 9—Those who were born in the years 1854 to 1858, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

Class 10—Those who were born in the years 1849 to 1853, both inclusive, and are married, or are widowers who have a child or children.

(2) For the purposes of this section, any man married after the eleventh day of June, 1917, shall be deemed to be unmarried.

(3) Any class, except Class 1, shall include men who are transferred thereto from another class as hereinafter provided, and men who have come within Class 1 since the previous class was called out.

(4) The order in which the classes are described in this section shall be the order in which they shall be called out on active service, provided the Governor in Council may divide any class into subclasses, in which case the subclasses shall be called out in order of age beginning with the youngest.

4. (1) The Governor in Council may from time to time by proclamation call out on active service as aforesaid for the defence of Canada, either in Canada or beyond Canada, any class or subclass of men described in section three and all men within the class or subclass so called out shall, from the date of such proclamation, be deemed to be soldiers enlisted in the Military Forces of Canada and subject to military law for the duration of the present war, and for the performance of any service as hereinafter provided.

(2) Men so called out shall report and shall be placed on active service in the Canadian Expeditionary Force as may be set out in such proclamation or in regulations, but until so placed on active service, shall be deemed to be on leave of absence without pay.

(3) Any man by or in respect of whom an application for exemption is made as hereinafter provided, shall, so long as such application or any appeal in connection therewith is pending and during the currency of any exemption granted him, be deemed to be on leave of absence without pay.

(4) Any man called out on active service, who, without reasonable excuse, fails to report as aforesaid or to remain on active service where placed shall be guilty, according to the circumstances, of desertion, or of absconding himself without leave and shall be liable:

(a) to be tried by court-martial and convicted and punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years; or

(b) on summary conviction to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three years.

5. (1) There shall be established in the manner hereinafter set out, the following tribunals:

(a) Local Tribunals;

(b) Appeal Tribunals;

(c) A Central Appeal Judge.

(2) Any tribunal may hear evidence on oath or otherwise as it may deem expedient, and for the performance of its duties shall have all the powers vested in a Commissioner under Part I of the Inquiries Act.

(3) The Governor in Council may, upon the recommendation of the Central Appeal Judge, make regulations with respect to the establishment, constitution, functions and procedure of the said tribunals and such regulations may contain provisions for securing uniformity in the application of this Act.

(4) In so far as provision is not otherwise made, the procedure of the Tribunal shall be such as is determined by the Tribunal.

(5) No member of any tribunal shall be liable at law for anything done by him in good faith in the performance of his duties under this Act, and no action shall be taken against any member of a local tribunal or an appeal tribunal in respect of the performance or non-performance of his duties under this Act, except with the written consent of the Central Appeal Judge.

Local Tribunals.

6. (1) The Minister may from time to time by proclamation or otherwise establish local tribunals at such places as he deems necessary and give each an appropriate designation.

(2) The Minister may, after a local tribunal is established, order, by proclamation or otherwise, the removal of such local tribunal from place to place within the same province.

(3) Each local tribunal shall consist of two members. One member shall be appointed by a Board of Selection to be established by joint resolution of the Senate and House of Commons; the other member shall be appointed by the following authority:

I. In those provinces in which there are county courts or district courts, the county court judge or district court judge, or if more than one, the senior judge for the county or district in which the local tribunal is established, or when the place at which a local tribunal is to be established is not within the territorial limits of any county court or district court, then by such judge as may be determined by the Minister.

The judge making the appointment may appoint himself or any other judge having jurisdiction in the county or district.

For the purposes of this section, "county court judge" or "district court judge" includes any deputy judge authorized by law to act for the time being for any such judge, and also includes any acting judge so authorized.

II. In the province of Quebec:

(a) In the judicial districts of Montreal and Quebec, any judge of the Superior Court of the province of Quebec who is authorized by the Chief Justice of the said Court or authorized by the judge appointed to perform the duties of Chief Justice in the judicial district.

(b) In the other judicial districts the judge of the Superior Court of the province of Quebec assigned to the judicial district within which the local tribunal is established.

III. In the Yukon Territory:

The judge of the Territorial Court or the person appointed under the provisions of the Yukon Act to act in place of such judge; and

IV. In the Northwest Territories:

The Commissioner of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

(4) (a) The names and addresses of all persons appointed on a local tribunal shall, as may be provided by regulations be communicated to the Minister.

(b) The Minister may by telegraph or otherwise appoint one or both members of a local tribunal, or may, if he has not received, within such period before the tribunal is to sit as may be fixed by regulation, the names and addresses of members duly appointed.

(c) A vacancy occurring shall be filled by the authority who appointed the member vacating, and if not so filled or if communication of same as aforesaid has not been received by the Minister within such period as may be fixed by regulation, the Minister may fill such vacancy.

(5) Any person duly appointed a member of a local tribunal shall, unless relieved in writing by the authority appointing him, perform his duties as such member, and any person who without reasonable excuse fails to do so shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(6) Each local tribunal shall hear and decide applications for certificates of exemption made to such tribunal as provided in section eleven.

Appeal Tribunals.

7. The Chief Justice of the court of the resort in each province, or in case of his absence, or failure to act, then, a judge of that court designated by the Minister, shall establish for such province a sufficient number of Appeal Tribunals, and shall assign to each such tribunal one judge of any court of such province, and shall distribute two of section ten by local tribunals of which the Registrar has notice and such appeal tribunals shall severally hear and decide the same.

Final Tribunals.

8. The Governor in Council may appoint one of the judges of the Supreme Court of Canada to be the Central Appeal Judge.

9. A Registrar for each Province may be appointed by the Governor in Council.

Appeals.

10. (1) Any person aggrieved by the decision of a local tribunal, and any person authorized by the Minister of Militia and Defence, may appeal against such decision.

(2) If the two members of a local tribunal cannot agree as to any decision to be made by them, they shall forthwith state in writing the case to be decided and cause the statement to be sent to the Registrar for the province in which the tribunal is established.

(3) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subsection there shall be an appeal from any appeal tribunal to the Central Appeal Judge.

(b) The Governor in Council, on the recommendation of the Central Appeal Judge may make regulations providing the Registrar for the province in which the appeal is made, provided any person authorized by the Minister of Militia and Defence may as of right enter and prosecute such appeal.

(c) The Central Appeal Judge shall be the tribunal of last resort, and the Governor in Council may, on his recommendation, appoint one or more other judges of any superior court to assist the said Central Appeal Judge in the discharge of his duties, and define their powers.

The seekers after thrills are as numerous in Northern Alberta per capita as any other part of the world or continent territory. This much was amply demonstrated by the throngs of humanity which packed itself into the grandstand and enclosures at the exhibition yesterday afternoon and cheerfully faced heat, dust and discomfort to get a glimpse of the auto speed kings in action. The races were sufficiently hair-raising to satisfy the aficionado thrill-seekers, and accompanying the attraction was the flight of Miss Stinson and the parade of automobiles, by way of an illustration as to the length which gasoline has altered the old method of transportation and given speed an altogether new meaning.

Almost Perfect Track

On an almost perfect track the eight professional racers gave an exhibition of daring and expert driving that fairly took the breath of the spectators at times. The fascinating "mile-a-minute" feat, while not becoming a part of the afternoon program, was very nearly caught by "Texas" George Clark, who drove speedy No. 5 car around the half-mile oval twice in 1:08 2-5, which may properly be accounted fairly good traveling around short turns on a hot summer's day.

Free-For-All

The first heat of the free-for-all brought out Chad Jewett, Dave Kostela, Fred Horey and Jules Ellingboe. Horey got away to a slow start and trailed along behind the dust clouds for a matter of nine laps, only to reach out in a great burst of speed in the final quarter and win by a tire's width at the wire. Jewett led the first two miles but after that took a second position for every time around the track. The time for the first heat was 8 minutes 22 2-5 seconds for the five miles.

George Clark, Ben Giroux, Bob Kline and Floyd Willard faced the starter in the last event of the free-for-all. Willard in the Ford racer, which appeared to be a favorite with the crowd, developed a surprising burst of speed and pounded ahead of the field for the entire five miles. Clark, after getting away rather late, held on to second place throughout, but his first start was hardly fast enough to win. Willard's time was 6:05 4-5.

Three Miles Event
The first race of the day was the three mile event for cars of 231 to 300 cubic inch displacement and for a $300 purse. From a standing start Chad Jewett won in 4:17 1-5 from Floyd Willard second, and Ben Kline third. Jewett's time was 4:17 1-5, which was anything but a lucky number, judging from the trouble which he had with it throughout the afternoon.

Another three-mile race, this for cars of 301 to 450 inches and a purse of $300, brought out Horey, Willard, Clark and Ellingboe. Clark was the hero of this heat by starting from the tail end of the flock into first place by a foot in the last few hundred yards. Willard again got away to a fast start and was never passed except by Clark. Ellingboe finished third. The six laps were covered in the excellent time of 3:46 3-5.

Novelty Race
The novelty race was one which showed the crowds how quickly a tire and wheel change is made in a great road or speedway race. Dave Kostela and Ben Giroux were the competitors in the event, each driving twice round the track, stopping to have a wheel changed in exactly 18 seconds. The mile and a half, including the stop and change, was made in 2:13 3-5.

Australian Pursuit
The Australian pursuit race was another event out of the ordinary, this bringing out four cars for a prize of $200. In this race, every car when evicted drops out of the race. Horey started scratch with Ellingboe, Willard and Kline at different stages in advance round the track. The cars covered five miles and in the seventh round Bob Kline in number 7 was squeezed out of the running by Willard. The drivers finished in the following order in a hair-raising finish: Horey, Willard and Ellingboe. Time, 6:15 2-5.

The only flying starts of the afternoon were those of the novelty race and that when George Clark went a mile in a trial against time. Although "Texas" drove apparently to his limit in the last half, and failed by eight seconds to cut the time off clearly at the sixty second mark, the grand condition of the track made it appear possible that another attempt would see the feat accomplished or bettered.

Match Race
The Saturday afternoon auto race program contains seven events and the final heat of the free-for-all will be held. In this event, George "Texas" Clark and Fred Horey, the winners of the first and second heats, will battle for the $500 first money, as will Chad Jewett and Floyd Willard, who finished second in the two preliminary heats. Either member of the quartet can step out this afternoon and by crossing the line first garner the $500.

OUTLET IN FINAL
CHICAGO, July 13.—By virtue of spectacular par golf today Francis Outmet of Boston, formerly national amateur champion, and Kenneth P. Edwards of Chicago will meet tomorrow in the thirty-six hole final contest for the western amateur golf championship at Midlothian. Outmet today defeated Donald Edwards, medalist of the tournament, four up and two to play, after Edwards had made a thrilling bid for victory with a record of thirty-three strokes for the nine holes, three under par.

Kenneth had an easier conquest in defeating John G. Anderson, of New York, three runner up in the national winning five up and four, but he shot close to par to overcome the stubborn easterner.

Uphill Fight
BOSTON, July 13.—St. Louis came from behind today with four runs in the seventh, tied Boston in the eighth and won in the ninth, the score being 7 to 6. Reulbach had the visitors' weak in the eighth inning. In the seventh, the St. Louis team scored on a single by Reulbach, who was hit by a pitch from the pitcher.

Two Shut Outs
PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Philadelphia and Chicago split even in two shut-outs here today, the home team winning the first game, 2 to 0, and the visitors the second, which went ten innings, 1 to 0. Alexander and Douglas had a battle until the latter weakened in the eighth inning. In the latter event neither Demaree nor Rixey allowed any scoring until the tenth, when Worthington received a base on balls, took second on a wild pitch, and scored on Demaree's single and scored on Flack's single.

Two for Brooklyn
BROOKLYN, July 13.—Brooklyn beat Pittsburgh twice today. The first was a 4 to 0 shut-out, and the second went ten innings to 2 to 1 in victory. Cheney's great pitching, backed up by faithful support, featured the opener. Bob Steele pitched shut-out ball until the ninth inning of the second game.

One for New York
NEW YORK, July 13.—New York took the third game of the fifth Cincinnati here today, 4 to 1. Cincinnati rallied and drove Benton out of the box with three hits in the second, but Chase spoiled the rally when he was caught napping at second base.

Eleven Innings
CHICAGO, July 13.—An unusual play in the eleventh inning gave New York a 6 to 5 victory over Chicago today. After one man was out Peckinpah angled and took second on a sacrifice bunt, then angled to center and Peckinpah started home. Felsch's throw to the plate was perfect, and as Peckinpah slid, Schalk dropped upon him and also dropped the ball. Schalk, while sitting on the New Yorker, recovered the ball and touched Peckinpah out. Peckinpah was trapped a foot from the base, but Umpire Evans ruled him safe, claiming that Schalk held him while he was recovering the ball.

Two Shut Outs
DETROIT, July 13.—James shut out Boston today, holding them to one hit, and Detroit won, 1 to 0. The only hit made by the visitors was a single by Lewis in the seventh, Leonard also pitched fine ball.

Two Doubles
ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Slater's hitting enabled St. Louis today to win from Philadelphia. In the fourth, Slater Austin and Sloan had singled, Slater drove in Austin with a double. In the sixth Sloan, scored on Slater's second double.

PUNISHED SMITH
Earl Henderson, of Rock Island, Ill., won from Jackson Smith, Des Moines, in the seventh round of a ten-round bout at Davenport, Iowa, after administering a severe punishment to Smith.

BEAT DUNDEE
CHICAGO, July 13.—George Chaney of Baltimore won by a shade from Johnny Dundee of New York in a six-round bout at Philadelphia last night. The two men weighed in at less than 125 pounds.

AIN'T IT A FACT
How frequently it happens that fighters who give great promise of attaining high fistic honors give out when the laurels of the ring are seemingly within their grasp. A case of this kind is presented in the career of Joe Borrell, the Italian-American fighter, who recently celebrated his twenty-fourth birthday. In 1914 this young boxer was a contender for the middleweight title, today he is very little in the limelight. Borrell began making a reputation in 1911 by knocking out nearly every man he encountered. In his first year in the ring Borrell met twelve men in what were scheduled to be six-round bouts. Only two of them went to six rounds. He scored nine knockouts and his opponents lasted on an average of two rounds before he "put them to sleep." In 1912 Joe fought twenty bouts. Again he scored nine knockouts and won the remainder. In April, 1913, Borrell met Mike Dempsey in New York and the redoubtable Mike lasted one inning before taking the count. A little later he defeated Walter Monahan in Altoona, knocked out Joe Grim in the sixth round at Philadelphia, and in October of the same year repeated the performance in the same city, Harry Lewis being the victim. In April, 1914, Borrell fought Eandean Blake, the English middleweight, in London, and was having the best of it when the referee stopped the contest because Borrell had unintentionally alarmed his opponent after the bell had rung. In May of the same year he went over to Paris and met Varesi Moreau, the French middleweight, whom he easily defeated. Since that time Borrell has not done much to attract attention to his work in the ring.

Two Shut Outs
DETROIT, July 13.—James shut out Boston today, holding them to one hit, and Detroit won, 1 to 0. The only hit made by the visitors was a single by Lewis in the seventh, Leonard also pitched fine ball.

Two Doubles
ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Slater's hitting enabled St. Louis today to win from Philadelphia. In the fourth, Slater Austin and Sloan had singled, Slater drove in Austin with a double. In the sixth Sloan, scored on Slater's second double.

Sporting Facts and Fancies

Every once in a while the Athletics send a shiver through the other American League teams. That's when they play ball as they did several seasons ago. If they had some first class pitchers there might be another story to tell in regard to their standing.

Wonder how that new "find" of McGraw's is going to act when he gets into the game next season. His name sounds good, it's Adam Swiger, and his record at the University of Pennsylvania is fine. McGraw usually knows how to pick winners, but—you never can tell.

DELCO LIGHT

What is Delco Light? It stands for one of the greatest conveniences ever brought into the farmhouse or the country home—that is, the installation of a complete electric light and power system. Delco Light consists of an engine, generator, switchboard and set of batteries. With this all the old troubles are done away with in the country. Outage of the old oil lamp with its constant risk of explosions and of burning down the whole premises, not forgetting, too, the danger of being upset by the dimming of the light. With Delco Light installed a wire can be run into the barn, and there is no need to call on the imagination very strongly to think of the advantage this brings. No more groping about with lanterns with the hands cold or half frozen. Everyone knows what it means to work in the barn after dark. The Delco Light is a clean, bright light in one corner where the lantern may be placed, while all around is darkness. Every time something is wanted from the other side of the barn the lantern has to be carried. With the Delco Light one or two lamps may be fixed and there is a soft brilliant illumination all over the building. No matter what it may be a horse or man, the work is done better and in much less time. There are none of the little irritations coming along as was the case when the lantern was used. The light is clean, and as a result tempers are sweeter, with a corresponding good effect on the animals.

Delco Light can be seen on the stand of the Home Electric Light and Power Company in the Manufacturers Hall in the Exhibition. Here F. W. Hardy, manager, will give the information that is required and demonstrate the usefulness of the plant. The premises of the Company are at 10628 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton.

Before touching on other advantages of the Delco Light system one big attraction must be mentioned. It does not cost any enormous sum of money. The price is $140 f.o.b. Edmonton, and the plant is easily installed so that no great outlay is required in this direction.

The generator is driven by a two-horse power motor gasoline engine and the engine and generator are directly connected, which is away with any loss of power by transmission or belt troubles and increases the efficiency of the whole machine. There is no need to run the engine for any length of time as a storage battery is provided which delivers 25-volt current sufficient to carry six lights of sixteen-candle power for 25 hours.

A handy little motor is sold with the plant. This can be used from point to point about the farm, for the working of a cream separator or churn. It should not be overlooked that the engine is air-cooled and this obviates all danger from freezing.

How Delco Light improves conditions in the farm buildings has been mentioned, but perhaps even more is done in the house. Apart from the advantages of giving a splendid system of lighting the Delco Light motor will run the washing machine, and thus do away with all the strain of the washing day. The 22-volt supply carried by the Home Electric Light Company provides a motor to work the sewing machine, vacuum cleaner, to do away with all the hard work of house-cleaning, electric vibrators, toasters, grills and warming-pots for cooking.

Altogether Delco Light is one of the most complete and satisfactory modern appliances that can be taken into the farmhouse, and although Delco Lighting systems have not been on the market as long as some other systems, there were more Delco plants sold in June in Alberta than have been sold in the whole of Canada by all other systems.

THE WESTERN CANADA FLOUR MILLS
Started in the milling business eleven years ago in a mill of 400 barrels capacity. Since that time their business has increased so rapidly that they have been compelled to increase the capacity of their plants and today they have a total daily output of eleven thousand barrels of flour and a daily output of 500 barrels of rolled oats and oatmeal. About three years ago the Western Canada Flour Mills Ltd., amalgamated with the Brackman Kerr Mills Company, Ltd., of Strathcona, taking over their different plants throughout the West and carrying on the business under the firm name of Western Canada Flour Mills Ltd.

It is purely a Canadian institution, financed entirely by Canadian capital, of this offer.

The Western Canada Flour Mills Company, which company now operates at Edmonton South and also other mills has an exhibit stand of great interest at the Manufacturers Hall, because in addition to showing the completed product they show it in various stages of manufacture, also their manufacture from other grains in addition to wheat and oats.

One of the main features of the exhibit is the display of bread, cakes and pastry made by the bakers of the city who are using Purity Flour. The Company are also introducing a new cook book known as the "Purity Flour Cook Book" which is having a big sale during the week. This valuable cook book can be had from any retail grocery in the city after the fair.

The standard manufacture of the Western Canada Flour Mills Company are Purity Flour and Purity Rolled Oats. Purity Rolled Oats is making great strides into popularity by reason of the excellent flavor brought about by the Scotch process of manufacture.

Miss Warner, who is a member of the chemistry department of the mills, tells in a most interesting manner of the care used in the manufacture of the Purity products. In this department she says there is a miniature mill. Here samples of grain are taken from the cars and subjected to the most thorough tests before being bought and again after this the products are tested before being shipped out. The special idea of this, states Miss Warner, is to maintain the assurance that only a uniform standard article is being sent out and that there shall be no difference in quality or appearance at any time.

"said Miss Warner, 'are welcomed at the mills. At the present time a great deal of flour and oats manufactured into various forms is being made for the troops of the Allies, and knowing the interest in the feeding of the soldiers the public is invited to inspect the making of their food. A surprising number of people have taken advantage of this offer."

E. Blaisdell, who was also at the stand, gave some interesting details of the values of whole meal flour, which he said, was a matter of dispute. The food value of wholemeal was higher than the more refined variety, yet it seemed that the system could not assimilate sufficient on account of the irritating nature of the whole meal flour.

phorus is the brainfood; lecithin in the food of the nerves and nerve centres. The highest authorities give to oatmeal the first place as a food for the young. Most oatmeal users have chosen Purity Oats. They are known the country over as the best of the oat foods, made from selected oats grown in the Edmonton district and manufactured in the home mill using the Improved "Scotch Process."

Purity Rolled Oats are sold in sacks of different sizes and are also put up in tubes for family use. Each large tube contains a coupon worth 10 cents in exchange for Rogers silverware.

OVERLAND AND WILLYS-KNIGHT MOTORS

With the reliable medium-priced motor car now in greater demand than ever there is every reason why the Overland and Willys-Knight Exhibition should have been crowded with visitors, as has been the case throughout the week.

The staff of E. C. May & Co., the distributors for Northern Alberta of the Overland and Willys-Knight motor cars, have been kept busy, but they are well satisfied with the result. The cars on the stand which have been the centre of attraction comprise the 90 Model Overland, 90 Model Touring Overland, priced at $1,075, the 90 Model Sedan, priced at $1,550, the dainty Country Club model, to be bought at $1,210 and the big seven-passenger Willys-Knight car.

Overland cars have always been popular ever since they were put on the market, and this popularity is not exclusive to the American continent alone. Overland cars are to be found in European countries and they have achieved a distinct success by reason of appearance and performance.

There is always plenty of room, yet the bodies are built on the latest and most approved lines showing grace and the least resistance to air pressure. Every detail of finish is worked out to the most minute degree. The long cantilever springs—the easiest type of springs ever invented—make riding, even over rough tracks, a pleasure. With the motor even more thought and care has been expended in order to secure the maximum of energy with the least cost and easy running. The result is that the Overland has an engine that has always a reserve of power no matter the strain put on the car. It is quiet, runs smoothly day in and day out, and is flexible in degree, making a change of speed one of the strong points of the car.

The Overland can be obtained in styles of all kinds of work. There is the big touring car, the light passenger car, the touring Sedan, all enclosed, and the touring Coupe. One of the most interesting cars on the stand is the four-passenger Country Club model. This car is of the elaborated roadster type, with an ingenious arrangement for seating which makes it capable of carrying four passengers. It is light, quick and powerful, and just the car for country driving. Its finish and the red-tinted wheels give the car a distinctive appearance.

For the buyer who requires a big passenger car, and one with very special features, there is the seven-passenger Willys-Knight car in which the motor remarkable Knight sleeve-valve motor is fitted. It is quite true, the statement that Knight-motored cars have always been the aristocrats of motordom. The sleeve valve was first used on some of the most expensive cars turned out by European makers, and now its use is practically general among them. It would require a lengthy explanation to detail all the virtues of the sleeve-valve motor, sufficient to say that the owner who has one on his car may know that the motor, instead of deteriorating with age, that it is improving. It does away with all the old troubles, the grinding of valves, the weakening of springs, the forming of carbon. It increases power with the speed of the engine, and it banishes all noise of working. Indeed, when the "Silent Knight," as it was called, was first introduced on the European market there was objection raised on the part of some drivers by reason of this noiseless running, as it made the car so quiet in traffic that its approach was altogether too dangerous to pedestrians.

In the Willys-Knight models all these advantages are secured at a cost which put it within the reach of those who possess moderate resources, who can now secure an engine as good as that put into the millionaire's car.

THE MOODY THRESHER

One of the requirements of the farm in the west, which experience has shown, is that of a medium-sized, compact threshing outfit which will be the needs of the individual farmer, or also perhaps do the work of two or three neighbors.

This want is met by the Moody Separator, now being shown by the Exhibitors at the Manufacturers Hall, 10414 street and 102nd Avenue, Edmonton. The Moody Separator is one of the newest machines of its kind on the market. It has a capacity of 200 to 300 bushels per day, according to size, and it will deal with all kinds of grain or seed and is guaranteed to give clean, pure grain, free from chaff and seed there is a special bagging arrangement that can be put into use, and is exceedingly convenient.

Many farmers have been put to serious and inconvenient trouble by being able to get their grain threshed out when wanted, and this is where the usefulness of the Moody machine comes in. It can be driven by either a portable engine or tractor, and is not expensive in price. The separator with engine and chaffer costs at figures from $600 to $1,400 with all equipment. Francœur Bros. sell a special engine for use with the separator, and

How Is Your Appetite?

Loss of appetite during the summer months is a common trouble, and indicates that the digestive system is out of order. Lacking a healthy appetite many people—especially women—go too long without food, or eat too sparingly because food seems to disagree with them, and it is no wonder they complain that they are constantly tired and unable to stand the hot weather. This simply means that the digestive system is not doing its proper work, and that the nutriment that should come from the food is not being distributed to the various organs of the body. In other words the blood is growing thin and watery.

You need a summer tonic, and in all the realm of medicine there is no tonic so quick as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Take a short treatment with these pills now and notice how promptly your appetite returns and your power to digest food improves. Your food will then do you good, your strength will return and you will no longer complain that the hot weather tires you out.

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is in the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old-time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

this engine is also adaptable for running all kinds of farm machinery.

The virtues of the Moody Separator have been proved to such a degree that the machine has been used extensively at the Government, both Provincial and Dominion government, demonstration farms in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

It is claimed that the machine is sold at one-fourth to one-sixth of the price of the large outfits, and it is disposed of on terms that make the first year's threshing bill pay the initial cost.

THE WESSAX TRACKFORD

Surely the inventive genius of the mechanist is giving the farmers all the help possible to assist him in rendering the soil productive at the least possible cost and trouble to himself. One of the most successful of the devices introduced in the way of farm machinery is the Wessax Trackford, which enables a farmer to convert his Ford motor car into a tractor for ploughing or other farm work.

The staff of the Wessax Trackford is not exactly a new machine on the market, although it may be in Northern Alberta. But it has already been proved and found a success in the east and a portion of the west. In the province of Saskatchewan 400 of these attachments have been sold, and in the first year's threshing bill pay the initial cost.

The sole distributor for the northern part of the province is A. T. Peterson, of 10225 street, Edmonton, whose office is at Vardon's Garage. At the Exhibition, located close to the main entrance, Mr. Peterson has been giving demonstrations of the Wessax Trackford, showing its usefulness and the ease with which it can be put on an ordinary pleasure car, and after being used the car changed back again for ordinary use.

The Wessax Trackford consists of tractor wheels and attachment, which when the rear wheels of the Ford have been taken off is clamped on the top converting it into a tractor ready for hard work. The front steering wheels are left as before. The body of the car can be removed or not, as will suit, but it seems to be a general practice to remove the car body, the main reason being to preserve its appearance.

The engine is driven on high all the time when working, while a 12-gallon water tank and circulating pump mounted over the engine give the additional cooling necessary for the capabilities. The Trackford can pull 14-inch stubble ploughs, or one 16-inch breaking plough. It will work at the rate of two and a half miles per hour when ploughing, while a binder and general farm work it will travel at the rate of five miles per hour. The average consumption of gasoline is about one gallon to the mile. The price of the Wessax Tractor is only $200 f.o.b. Edmonton, its cost thus being not more than the cost of horses. After the Trackford has done the ploughing, it will run the binder, and if wanted will haul the grain over the field. It is capable of ploughing stubble and in breaking the consumption is a little higher.

The tractor is a wonderful machine in its all universal capacity for farm work. In the first place it supplants horses, at the present time one of the dearest items of farm stock. It is simple to make and quickly and easily handled. It consumes two gallons of gasoline per acre, and will plough one acre or the harrow and either subsoil or breaking the sod. It will do the work asked, and can be depended upon to break up some of the toughest properties in the district.

Keeping Political 'Pull' Out of Draft Exemptions

Political influences in the working of the draft exemption boards in the United States is a peril various journals foresee with alarm, and in their support they have no less an authority than the President himself who sounded a note of caution on this point in the proclamation announcing the rules and regulations governing the selection of men for service in the national war-army.

In a Washington dispatch to the Socialist New York Call, the charge is made that both Republicans and Democrats were wrangling for places on the exemption boards "in order that one party or the other may have an opportunity to punish their political foes by sending the sons to the trenches."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, July 14th number, the general rules governing the selection of men for the national war-army are given, and the note of warning that boards shall not be derelict in their duty, is heard from various sources.

Among other articles of supreme importance in this number of the "Digest" are:

There was one drawback, but one that could not be avoided and which in itself was a recommendation. So great has the demand been for the McLaughlin car that the Edmonton house was sold out, and until Thursday there were no cars to go on the stand. On Wednesday, however, a consignment arrived—a four-cylinder model of 35 h.p. engine, the other three are six-cylinder cars of 41 h.p. and 45 h.p. respectively.

Nearly everybody nowadays knows something about a motor car, and all are aware that the engine is the heart of the machine. The McLaughlin excels in this respect, the engine is recognized as being good and true, and it has stood the test of service. The famous valve-in-head motor conserves the power, it secures all the energy possible to be obtained from the gasoline, and in this respect, makes the McLaughlin one of the most economical cars that can be used. All the parts are easily accessible, which also is one of the most desirable features to be acquired with a car.

The finish on these cars is all carried out with the same care and thoroughness as that of the McLaughlin. The metal fittings are nickel-plated, the upholstery is real leather and the enameled is carried out to the highest degree of brilliancy. Take the D. Six 45 Special, this is a really beautiful little car finished in green enamel, and the fittings are as good as those on the higher-priced models. The D. Six 45 Special is a king of its kind. Its lines and general appearance catch the eye at once. The enameled is in an attractive shade of light khaki and there are a number of special features about the car which make for the greatest comfort and convenience. The furnishings are of real Spanish leather, the curtains are so fitted that they can be closed all round.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any drugist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that the well-known and popular McLaughlin disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion. Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

and open with the doors, giving the car the same comforts as a limousine; there is an electric light for the interior, a very useful adjunct, a mahogany locked fitted in the rear of the tonneau and another in the front are excellent for storage, there is a mud-scraper on the footboard—another useful little touch—and an eight-day clock in front of the driver's seat makes for another great convenience. This car is an ideal one for town use, and in a machine of distinction.

But the McLaughlin is not a fair-weather car alone, nor is it built for exclusive use on good roads. For all weather—for all purposes—there's a McLaughlin for all the family. For winter driving over snowy streets; for cross country touring; if a big car is needed or a small car is desired, there's a McLaughlin to fit the necessary requirements. The McLaughlin showrooms and garage is on 104th street, Edmonton.

STREET CARS RUN IN TORONTO AGAIN

Men Back to Work For Company—Service on During the Forenoon

Toronto, July 13.—The Toronto street cars are running again. The plan was that the men would assemble at the car barn at 12 o'clock and that cars would be at all parts of the city by one o'clock. The performance was a little better than that, however, as the first cars on the Queen street route arrived at the city hall at 11.10, and by 12.15 cars on all principal routes had appeared in the centre of the city.

The striking employees are back to work for the railway company, not for the Ontario railway board, as was suggested yesterday might be the case, and further demands of the men will be considered by a conciliation board under the Federal Industrial Disputes Act. Mr. Fleming said the company would accept the award of a conciliation board. The men will not bind themselves.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard A. Cook

Uncle Wiggily Plays Croquet

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

One day, when Uncle Wiggily Longears, the nice rabbit gentleman, was out walking in the woods, having left his hollow-stump bungalow to have an adventure, all of a sudden as he was passing under a big tree something fell on his head and covered him up even down to the end of his little stubby tail.

"Oh, my!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder if the sky has fallen on me, as it once did on poor Henny Penny." Then he looked about him, as well as he could, for he found himself in darkness, and he saw that what had fallen on him was a big basket—the kind rich people keep their potatoes in. "Why, how in the world did this get over me?" asked the bunny rabbit out loud. And he was surprised when a voice answered him:

"It dropped it on top of you, that's how it got over you."

"And who are you?" asked the rabbit gentleman, trying to be as brave as possible.

"I am your friend, the skilful-scully alligator with humps on his tail," was the answer, "and I have caught you."

"You have caught me, sure enough," said Uncle Wiggily, "but you are no friend of mine or you would let me go."

"That I shall not do," said the "gator," smacking his lips, hungry like "I am going to carry you off to my den."

And then, holding up on his shoulder the potato basket with Uncle Wiggily in it, the alligator started off over the field and through the woods, carrying Mr. Longears.

"Well, this is an adventure surely enough, and one quite early in the morning," thought Uncle Wiggily. "But it is one I would rather not have. What would my nice muskrat lady housekeeper, Nurse Jane Pussy Wussy, say if she could see me now?"

On and on went the "gator," carrying Uncle Wiggily, and pretty soon he came to his den under the rocks. There he took the rabbit gentleman out of the basket and tied him fast to a leg of the kitchen stove.

"Stay here until I come back," said the alligator, "until I come back."

"Where are you going?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I am going to get my friend, the alligator with the double-jointed tail," was the answer, "and when we come back we will have lunch."

Now Uncle Wiggily did not like this at all, for he knew that he would have to take part in that lunch and he did not care for it. But there was nothing he could do, as he was locked in the alligator's den.

"Well, here until I come back," said the alligator, "until I come back."

"Ah, ha! I see you have at last caught that fat rabbit," said the double-jointed, "gator."

"Yes, and lunch will soon be ready," said the other, as he poked the fire.

"While we are waiting would you like to do anything?" he asked his friend.

"Well, now that you mention it, I would like to play a game of croquet," was the answer. "Croquet always did give me an appetite."

"I am sorry," said the hump-tailed "gator," "but I have no croquet balls, no mallets, no wickets and no colored ends."

"Oh, dear! That's too bad," said the other. "I did so want to, perhaps your friend Uncle Wiggily has a croquet set in his tail silk hat."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the hump-tailed "gator." "A croquet set in a tail silk hat? Whoever heard of such a thing? But I am sorry I cannot give you your wish. If I thought Uncle Wiggily could fix it so we could have a croquet game I would do almost anything he asked me."

"Would you?" asked the bunny rabbit, quickly. "Do you mean that? If I fix it so you two alligators can play croquet will you let me go?"

The hump-tailed alligator thought for a minute and then, winking his eye at his friend, said:

"Well, if you can make us a croquet set, and then beat us two playing the game, I'll let you go."

"All right!" cried brave Uncle Wiggily. "I'll do it."

"He never can!" whispered the hump-tailed "gator." "Even if he does we'll beat him playing the game."

"Sure!" said the other.

So they untied Uncle Wiggily from the stove, and then what did the brave bunny rabbit do? Why, he looked around until he found a willow tree, and taking some bent branches from that, shaped like the letter U turned upside down, he stuck them in the ground.

"There are the croquet wickets," he said.

Then he gnawed off two straight willow sticks, and stained them yellow with dandelions, purple with violet flowers and red with wild strawberry juice, and he had the two colored ends.

Then he looked under the pine tree until he found some round cones, and these were the croquet balls. Then he took some of the longer cones, and making a hole in the middle, he fastened in a long stick for a handle.

"There are the croquet mallets," said Uncle Wiggily, "and, as we have the wickets, stakes, balls, and all, we will now begin the game."

"Well, Well!" exclaimed the hump-tailed "gator." "I didn't think he'd do it. But we'll beat him playing the game."

But did they? They did not. When everything was all ready Uncle Wiggily suddenly gave his pine cone mallet a swing, hit a rough pine cone ball and knocked it on the hump-tailed "gator's" nose.

"Ouch!" cried the bad creature, and he had to sneeze. Then Uncle Wiggily knocked another rough pine cone on the other "gator's" nose, making him cry "Ouch!" also, and he, too, sneezed. And the alligators sneezed so much that they could not catch Uncle Wiggily, who hopped safely home to his hollow stump bungalow. So that's how he got away by playing croquet. And if the hump-tailed "gator" doesn't tumble off the blackberry vine and spill his bag of honey, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the bluebird.

PRUSSIAN REFORMS GRANTED BY KAISER ARE INSIGNIFICANT

Electoral Changes Which Affect Only Prussia Shown in Decree

Berlin, July 11, via London.—Emperor William has issued the following decree to the president of the state ministry:

"Upon the report of my state ministry, made to be in obedience to my decree of April 7th of the current year, I herewith decide to order a supplement to the same, that the draft of the electoral law for the house of deputies, which is to be submitted to the diet of the monarchy for decision, is to be drawn up on the basis of equal franchise. The bill is to be submitted in any case early enough that the next elections may take place according to the new franchise. I charge you to make all necessary arrangements for this purpose." (Signed) "William" (countersigned) "Bethmann-Hollweg."

Word was received several days ago that the German Emperor had issued a decree for franchise reforms, but hitherto the text of the order, which affects only Prussia, has not been available. It bears out advice received from Copenhagen, last night, to the effect that the results of the German political crisis thus far are comparatively small.

The introduction into the emperor's decree of the phrase "equal franchise," merely restores a provision which, according to Berlin gossip, was contained in the original draft of the emperor's Easter manifesto and was eliminated at the last moment in consequence of reactionary intrigues. It was also pointed out that the new imperial announcement does not preclude immediate adoption of the reforms, inasmuch as the next elections may not take place until after the war and that there is not a word of the introduction of parliamentarism in the imperial administration.

ARMY FORESAW GERMAN PLANS FOR DEMOCRACY

Letters and Documents Gave Intelligence Staff the News

BOYS OF 17 CALLED UP

Indignation Shown in Letter Written by Girl in Breslau

Canadian Army Headquarters in France, July 12.—The demand of the people of Prussia for a democratic franchise which will enable them to make an effective share in the government of their country, and the sympathetic movement of the south German, come as no surprise to the officers of our intelligence department.

Letters recently found in captured positions and in possession of prisoners have shown that revolutionary sentiment is becoming daily more widespread. The discontent is not confined to the rank and file. A person attached in some capacity to the staff of a Prussian reserve division recently wrote:

"There will probably be no peace until the same thing happens as happened in Russia. Otherwise England will not treat with our emperor and we are no longer in a position to make her do so."

One of the most potent causes of discontent seems to be the calling to the colors of lads who will be 18 years of age sometime during the present year. Under normal conditions they would not be required to serve until they reached twenty, but ample evidence is now available to show that these lads have been called out and that only sickly and undeveloped cases have been exempted.

"Call Up Children."

A girl in Breslau writing toward the end of June, says:

"The 1899 class is being called up here now. Isn't it a perfect mockery to call up such children. We talked about other countries calling up lads of nineteen and what is Germany doing? Hardly have they learned to shoot than they are called up to fight for the Fatherland. On Friday, June 15, an awful lot of the 1899 class left here. Ernest Bulch's brother too. He is good heaven, seventeen and a half years old, and becoming a soldier. Isn't the German state making itself ridiculous? It used to be said of another country, Russia, that it allowed itself to be enslaved. Can the German people say now that it is a free people? No, we are treated worse than slaves."

So Germany thinks.

As this girl of Breslau writes, millions of men and women in Germany think. Their discontent is destroying the fighting spirit of many men at the front. When lads of 18 and less begin to come to the trenches the older men wonder what will happen when that mode of reinforcing the German field armies is no longer available.

These extracts and opinions are but a few from those obtained. They help to an understanding of what is transpiring in Germany behind the fog of war.

London, July 12.—"The program of the successful party is quite frankly revolutionary, anti-English and separatist," says the Times, commenting editorially on the Clare election result. "There is a and can never be the slightest question of either Englishmen or serious Irishmen accepting the wild program with which the new members and friends won the seat. This is all the more reason therefore, why the best elements in Ireland should go steadily forward and review the situation together and determine to agree. If they should fail, the responsibility for good government will remain where it is today. The refusal to make the effort at this stage would be the counsel of sheer despair."

CLYDE FARMER LOSES WIFE.

The death took place recently of Mrs. E. G. Ellsworth, of Clyde, Alta., wife of a prosperous farmer of that section, after a long illness, caused by a cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth came to Alberta from Idaho, but they were originally from Minnesota. Two married daughters and the husband mourn her loss. The daughters, Mrs. Edward Billings and Mrs. Thomas Vandenberg, live on farms adjacent to that occupied by Mr. Ellsworth. There are four grandchildren. Interment took place at Clyde.

STATUE OF MAHER HIT BY INVADERS

London, July 14.—At the air raid inquest it was shown that the statue of the Kaiser and the statue of the British monarch were smashed to pieces by a German bomb. A woman protesting her baby, frightened by an explosion, clasped the baby too tightly and another the child to death.

FINLAND STRIKES FOR INDEPENDENCE RUSSIA ALARMED

Helsingfors Diet Passes Second Reading of "Freedom" Bill

GOV. SUPERCEDED

Premier Lovf Summons to Petrograd Ministers With Army

Petrograd, July 12.—The Finnish diet on Thursday passed the second reading of a bill virtually establishing Finnish independence. The introduction of the bill has created a serious crisis here and N. C. Tolstoid, president of the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates, has gone to Helsingfors in an effort to settle the difficulties.

An indication of the seriousness of the situation was a late sitting of the Petrograd cabinet and a decision of Premier Lovf to summon back to the capital the ministers who are now with the army. According to the Birzhevis, M. Lovf's Socialist colleagues declare themselves in principle in sympathy with Finland's move. The premier and other ministers belonging to the cabinet party refuse, however, to allow Finland to determine her relations with Russia, insisting she must wait until the meeting of the constituent assembly.

Bring Sharp Comment.

The comment of the newspapers in Petrograd is sharp. The Reich declares it is impossible for Russia to tolerate Finland's move. The Birzhevis hints at armed interference, saying Russia is now about to make a last attempt toward a peaceful settlement.

According to the present program, Helsingfors will tomorrow put the bill passed Thursday into force "by simple declaration," meaning without Russia's sanction. This is the first formal denial of Russia's asserted rights.

The law which was engineered by the Socialists, proclaims that Russia has lost all authority in Finland except in the domain of diplomacy and in the army and navy, wherein, however, Russia's rights are undefined. All other prerogatives of the Grand Duke of Finland, which the provisional government claims passed automatically to it, belong to Finland. Specifically the diet assumed the Grand Duke's rights to put into execution the law and prerogatives the legislative and appoint a supreme executive. The governor-general is not mentioned in the law and no functions are left him he is practically superseded. Telegrams from Helsingfors declare that after the promulgation of the law the diet will appoint its own senate.

Train service on the Finnish railway was resumed Thursday. Great indignation prevails here at the attitude of the Finnish diet.

Not a Corn of Callus on Feet

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it freestone and it now can be had in little bottles for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freestone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off with fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freestone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm.

Try it!

Women should keep freestone on their dressers or never let a corn ache again.

Record Demand ...

... Record Output

There is right now a tremendous demand for Dunlop Tires—"Traction," "Special," "Plain"—and this makes our record output merely the incentive to greater efforts.

Here, then, we have in a nutshell the attitude of Canadian auto owners. Despite their being besieged on every side with higher charges for merchandising in general, these motorists see plainly that, High Cost of Living or Low Cost of Living, they cannot afford to forsake Dunlop Quality at a just price merely to try and better Dunlop prices with the attendant risk of uncertain quality.

CONFEDERATION—RAILWAYS—THEN AND NOW

The marvellous advance in Canadian transportation in the past half century is demonstrated by the above photograph, showing the first railway train on the Grand Trunk, and the 20th Century International Limited. From the wooden rail to the steel one, from the small-powered, puny-looking engine, to the mammoth iron horse, from the open, uncomfortable, illiputian coaches to the palatial cars of today, has been the metamorphosis. The first picture represents the first steam-propelled train which left Montreal, the first trip of which has been made the subject of many an interesting narrative. The second is that of one of the G. T. R. fliers, which made their daily departure from Bonaventure, bound for Toronto and Chicago.

He has been visiting his wife at the Pathe Studio, where she is starring in motion pictures, and the photograph was taken when in a "set" which is being used by her. The dog is still a German police dog. When asked as to how it happened that he is willing to have as pet a dog which is an Teutonic as a dachshund, Mr. Castle informed the interviewer that the canine descended from the German trenches to the English and was now British in everything except in name.

STORY IS NEW
PICKFORD FILM"The Little American" Gives Artcraft Star An Opportunity In Something Modern.

As an attraction extraordinary, Manager Allen, of the Monarch theatre announces his engagement of the new Mary Pickford picture, "The Little American," conceded to be the greatest patriotic message ever seen on the motion picture screen, for all next week. Staged under the personal direction of that master of screen-craft, Cecil B. DeMille, creator of "Joan the Woman," this production, it is generally felt, surpasses even the wonderful achievement of that masterpiece.

Popularly known as "America's Sweetheart," Miss Pickford presents a particularly fitting characterization in the title role of this new Artcraft picture. Presenting a story of special timely theme by Mr. De Mille and Jeanie Macpherson, this production, it is promised, will bring home most effectively, conditions involving the present great war. Stirring views of remarkably spectacular war scenes, both on land and sea, are pictured in the most modern manner of photoplay technique.

As Angela Moore the "Little American" girl who braves the dangers of the war zone, "Our Mary" appears in what is readily thought to be the greatest dramatic effort of her career. In scenes that demand much of her histrionic finesse she offers a portrayal that is unlike anything hitherto given to the screen by this famous little actress.

In the production of "The Little American," various well-known authorities on conditions evidenced across the ocean, have collaborated with Mr. DeMille, with the result that even the most minute detail has been produced perfect. Again the combined efforts of Mary Pickford and Mr. DeMille have been linked together in the making of the photoplay, and judging from advance reports, this production will go down in motion picture history as one of its greatest works of art, as well as one of its most powerful appeals.

OWEN MCGIVENEY, the Dickensian impersonator, who comes to the Pantages theatre next week in "Bill Sykes."

Pantages

There is coming to the Pantages theatre next week one of the most distinguished men who has appeared in vaudeville in many years. He is Owen McGivney, the eminent English actor, who will present a protean sketch of the classic climax of Dickens story of "Oliver Twist," playing each one of the half dozen characters introduced, himself, with the aid of cleverly executed quick changes of make-up. He appears in turn, as Bill Sykes, Fagin, Monks, Arthur Dodger and Nancy.

Another of the famous George Choe musical acts is also on the program. "Oh Doctor" is the title and William Brandell, Earle Mountaine and a collection of attractive girls constitute the company.

A talented trio who are as well known as any three people in vaudeville are Johnny Small and the Small Sisters. Their specialty is singing, dancing and talking.

A continuous budget of surprises is offered by Bert Wheeler, who juggles various transportation articles in his act known as "Automobiles pantomime."

Al Wohlman, a "boom shouter" with lifting song hits will also be a feature with the favorite Universal News Weekly.

Empress

"A Tortured Heart."
"The Combat."

Excellence of programs is becoming more and more a byword concerning the Empress theatre, and the policy of open booking allows the management to again announce two stellar attractions in next week, the first with the dainty Anita Stewart in the leading role and the second with the beautiful Virginia Pearson heading the cast. "The Combat" is the title of the photoplay for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and apart from its very excellent plot it contains a thrill of the first water, which was incorporated in its action by the world-renowned director, Ralph W. Ince. It is a terrific railroad wreck, and the director was in conference with one of the big railroad heads for four hours before he was granted permission to film the necessary scenes. Mr. Ince's powers of persuasion overruled the magnate. The scene in the finished film shows a long train of cars tearing along the tracks at the top of a steep embankment. Just ahead of the coming locomotive the side of the bank gives away and when the ton weight of the train comes along it proves too much and the entire train overturns and falls into the valley. Then the wooden cars catch fire and with their load of suffering humanity turn to charred embers and ashes. This scene was staged at Long Beach, and the fields around were black with people who watched with eager eyes what has turned out to be one of the greatest scenes ever filmed. "A Tortured Heart" comes on Thursday for the balance of the week, and Virginia Pearson never before acted such a wonderful role. The drama tells a powerful tale of the evils of village gossip and a charming story of American southern life. Miss Pearson, already exceptionally well known to Empress patrons, herself is a noted beauty of the southland, and loves Dixie so well that her interpretation in this film of Lucille Darrell is done with especial feeling.

Majesty

Sensational episodes galore will be shown in opening bill at Majesty theatre next week. The heroic conduct of a military telegraph operator on the firing line in a devastating battle forms the basis of a patriotic melodrama entitled "Treason," to be shown at the Majesty theatre on Monday and Tuesday, when "Bluebird Day" is again signalled. Allen Holubar directed the production based upon "The Reward of His Government," a piece of fiction from the pen of Robert Lee Weigert. Mr. Holubar, along with Joseph Girard and dainty Lois Wilson, will be featured players in the interpretation of a gripping story.

JOHN HAZZA PLANS FOR NEW STARS TO APPEAR AT EMPRESS

Manager Returns From New York, Where He Has Signed Contracts
For Appearance Of Maxine Elliott, Madge Kennedy, Mary Garden, Jane Cowl, And Mae Marsh.

Edmonton in the past three or four years has been particularly fortunate in the class of motion pictures that have been shown in the local theatres, so much so that it was a frequent thing to hear the remark from citizens who have spent some time away from home, either in the east or across the line, to say that better pictures were to be found right at home than in any other town they had visited. They declared that where a feature was shown, there was that on the program and nothing more, whereas the Edmonton houses carried a good comedy or enough first class reels to make an hour-and-a-half or two-hour show.

And now further good things are planned for Alberta's capital. John Hazza, manager of the Empress theatre has just returned from New York, where he made arrangements to have the greatest stars the stage and motion picture industry play at his theatre. The pictures are in the making now, and the first will be released sometime in September. The stars that are making pictures for the Empress now are such as Maxine Elliott, Madge Kennedy, Mary Garden, Jane Cowl and Mae Marsh. Those are the big names of the present day theatrical and movie world, they are working on big features, every one of which will be a classic and they will all be shown at the Empress exclusively. Their worth is attested by the opinion of Stanley

V. Masterbaum of Philadelphia, in whose theatre their offerings will be presented, and also by the management of the Imperial theatre, Montreal; the Regent, Toronto; the Strand, New York City and many other houses where quality and quality alone is the trade mark.

The first picture in which Madge Kennedy will appear has been finished, but is awaiting release to accompany eleven others. There was no hurry in the work which Miss Kennedy and her screen associates did in the filming of this farce by Margaret Mayo. Under the direction of Hugo Ballin and John Stuart Robertson, the fun making in this farce has been even heightened in the process of transferring the story to the screen, with the result that laugh follows laugh just as quickly as will be good for the health of picture fans.

Jane Cowl's first picture is one of the works of Bazill King, whose novels, "The Inner Shrine," "The Spreading Dawn," and "Wild Olive" has been very successful in this country and in England. Unusual situations and a number of novel problems were encountered in the course of the photoplay version of this problem story, one of which asks what would be done if a woman should learn, too late to change anything in the world of the living, that a cruel revenge her bitterness had planned would be terrible injustice done because she had not understood.

Mae Marsh
Mae Marsh, the twenty-year-old girl of a thousand camera faces, has just discovered of David W. Griffith and Edmontons know her well for her work as the little sister in "The Birth of a Nation," and as the star of "Intolerance," which today closes a week's engagement at the Empire theatre. Here is what Kitty Kelly said of her in the New York Tribune: "Mae Marsh is one of the sort that give us hope that brains, not beauty,

CUNNING, THE SUPER MIND,
AT THE EMPIREBack From Far East, He Will Present Mystifying And Baffling Episodes.

If in doubt about love, marriage, divorce, business chances, travel or anything, ask Cunning, the super-mind, who appears at the Empire theatre all next week with his company of wonder workers.

Back from the Far East with new and amazing Hindu magic, modern mysticisms and baffling episodes, he will demonstrate his weird and startling novelties to Edmonton theatre-goers. This week at Calgary he was such a tremendous hit at the Grand theatre that he has been requested to play a return engagement at a near date.

In tests of mental telegraphy, and thought transference, Cunning stands without a peer. He has baffled the scientists of the "Eastern" civilized world. All his illusions are performed under the full gaze of the most brilliant electric lights.

In his famous "Simsa Science" he answers all questions written by those in the audience. He requests all who see him to write questions at home and take them to the theatre with them. He will pass among the audience and call your name and tell with you as though he had known you for life.

Matinees will be given on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. The Friday matinee is for women only and no girls under sixteen years of age will be admitted.

will be the acid test of the future in establishing screen stars. She, with her brains will be on the Empress screen.

Maxine Elliott
Maxine Elliott, another of the Empress stars has long been called "the handsomest girl that ever came out of New England," for several years she has devoted herself over and over to social life in London. Latterly she has taken a most passionate interest in the great world war, and at her own expense has contributed greatly to the relief of British and French wounded for which she has received recognition by the governments of both countries. Now, at the height of her remarkable beauty and her entry into motion pictures as a star, she will make millions of new admirers all over the world and incidentally thousands in Edmonton.

Mary Garden
For Mary Garden, who needs little introduction, it may be said that she has received greater exploitation than any other woman in modern history, and that she possesses a keener knowledge of how to hold the public's attention than the redoubtable Colonel Roosevelt. Miss Garden's public escapades are historic which certainly does not lessen her value in films. Her most recent exploit on the front pages followed her appearance at midnight in a tramp's retreat in Chicago where she sang for several hundred specimens of bedraggled humanity.

MARY PICKFORD TURNS TO MODERN PARTS AND SOME STUNNING GOWNS

For the first time since her appearance in Artcraft pictures, "America's Sweetheart," Mary Pickford, will be seen at the Monarch all next week as a modern American girl in modern gowns, in "The Little American."

In "Less Than the Dust," the famous star was seen as an East Indian, in "The Pride of the Clan" as a Scotch Lassie, in "A Poor Little Rich Girl" as a child of the days of '49, but in "The Little American" she blossoms forth as a wealthy young American girl with beautiful gowns and modern costumes by Lucile and Madame Frances.

WITHDRAWS BILL FORCING DIRECTORS TO LIVE IN CANADA

Senator Casgrain Defends Grand Trunk Against Its Critics

Ottawa, July 13.—In the discussion in the Senate yesterday previous to Senator George Lynch Staunton's withdrawal of his bill, up for second reading, which would require directors of Canadian railways to reside in Canada, Senator Casgrain intimated that the legislation was directly aimed at the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific railways and designed to injure their credit. He entered into a strong defense of the Grand Trunk railway and said that Senator Lynch Staunton had previous relations with them, for he and Mr. F. P. Guelius (former manager of the Intercolonial railway) had been appointed to investigate the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific and since the Spanish inquiry there had been nothing like the investigation they conducted. He said the money paid to the investigators was wasted. However, the investigators were rewarded. Mr. Guelius had been appointed manager of the government railways at $15,000 a year, and Mr. Lynch Staunton had been appointed Senator. He defended the financing of the Grand Trunk Pacific and said that the majority of shareholders should reside in Canada.

ITALIAN RESERVE IS ONE MILLION

No Place For Them to go—Compensation For Use is a Problem

New York, July 13.—"Italy," says a Washington dispatch to the New York World, "has 1,000,000 soldiers, trained and equipped, prepared to fight on any front except in the Austro-Italian theatre of war, where there is no place for them, the lines being filled and there being an excess of reserves. It is stated on high authority that the Italian government is contemplating the diversion of these troops from Italy to the Balkans. From political and territorial considerations, however, it is believed this is so. It is thought the other allies prefer France."

It is not known whether the compensation Italy would receive for the diversion of these troops from Italy has been the cause of delay in reaching a decision. Neither is it known whether Italy preferred to send the troops to the Balkans. From political and territorial considerations, however, it is believed this is so. It is thought the other allies prefer France."

A MEMORABLE ANNIVERSARY

By GEOFFREY TAYLOR

The Great French Revolution set in motion forces which in less than a century remodeled Europe and are still actively at work this moment, as we see exemplified by the fact of the present war. During the past hundred years, wherever "upper" and "lower" classes have been struggling with each other in support of conflicting systems of ideas or government, the impulse of such a reforming or revolutionary movement is invariably found to have been imparted by the French Revolution—ordinarily called "the Revolution" simply, without qualification, on account of the magnitude of its aims and accomplishments and its world-wide importance. It was Alexis de Tocqueville who remarked, as long ago as 1848: "There has been but one Revolution. The beginning of it our fathers saw and the end of it we are not likely to see." These views have become a commonplace among philosophers and historians. In France itself, and in all the countries which have brought together under French influence, old ideas and old institutions were utterly swept away in a way that had never happened before in any country where French soldiers penetrated—which, in effect, implies almost all Europe—the populations, hitherto torpid and servile, obedient to the aristocracy and especially illiterate and ignorant, were suddenly awakened to a new life, and since the Revolution there has been no part of Europe where the people have been so utterly down-trodden and despised as they were before 1789. The influence of the Revolution, with its message of human freedom, spread beyond the seas. Thus the Spanish and Portuguese colonies in America fought for independence and gained it, becoming independent states. In the case of the United States, the Revolution of 1789 brought about a new constitution, and the Russian Revolution, which the first symptoms appeared as long ago as 1825, is a topic of the hour.

In 1789 the National Assembly of the French people, called into being by the storming of the Bastille, presented such a long list of oppressions and abuses, and protested against them with such power and vigor, that King Louis XVI, and the clergy and nobility became alarmed. The court resolved to suppress the National Assembly and to restore the old monarchy. To this end the capital was surrounded by a number of the military regiments, recruited from abroad with foreigners, which then composed the chief part of the royal army. The famous "marche des femmes" (march of the women) to Versailles, which covered this conspiracy, and called the people to arms. The French-born soldiers of the army joined the populace with the utmost enthusiasm, thus providing cannon and a stiffening element. If Paris was to be saved from destruction, the Bastille would have to be stormed and captured. This great military operation was performed by the revolutionists on July 14, 1789. The King, seeing the people everywhere, and the Bastille, the great stronghold of the monarchy, with parliamentary institutions—in general, on the British model.

France would no doubt have remained a constitutional monarchy like Great Britain, to this day, had it not been for the treason of Louis XVI, who conspired with the Teutonic powers to invade the kingdom and re-establish the obnoxious absolutism and feudalism which had been in being up to the time the people stormed the Bastille on July 14, 1789. The King's treason, coming to light amid the terrors of Teutonic invasion in 1792, caused another insurrection. He was forced from the throne, soon to be executed as a traitor—and the French Republic was proclaimed, while a general call to arms impregnated France with sublime military enthusiasm. Rouget de Lisle composed the glorious "Marseillaise"—breathing as it does the hatred of tyrants and devotion to country, no national anthem can ever surpass it. Now came the great struggle, for national existence of 1792-94. Treachery opened the gates of Verdun to the Teutonic invaders; and the mob of Paris, animated by just patriotic rage, massacred the pro-German nobles, massacred the pro-German nobles, and the public enemy, at Valmy, and soon after at Jemappes, the raw levies of the summer, stiffened with the French fragments of the old royal army, triumphed over the Teutons, and stayed the tide of invasion for awhile.

The renewal of the attack in 1793, however, was of an even more menacing character than the invasion of the previous year; for now all the monarchs of Europe, in addition to the Teutonic powers, had declared war upon France in the hope of revenging the execution of Louis XVI. The French Republic, retorted by directing its generals to execute foreign territory they might occupy, to make public proclamation that feudalism and autocracy were ended, and to invite the people to proclaim their vision of liberty. Thus, amid the storms of war, were the seeds of Liberalism sown in Europe by French soldiers; the world, in truth, a species of their vision of the French Revolution. But the war was no mere war of proclamations; the situation was worse than critical. It had become a matter of life and death. Now began the celebrated "Reign of Terror." This was to frenzy of mob-anarchy, as is frequently imagined, the exact contrary is the fact. A most drastic act of parliament—which was in truth a declaration of martial law—was applied to the whole country. In some slight measure it may be compared to the present "Defence of the Realm Act" in Great Britain; but, instead of trivial fines and terms of imprisonment, all spies, traitors, rebels, and pro-Germans were sentenced to death by guillotine. The guillotine was the symbol of the Revolution, and the guillotine was the symbol of the Revolution.

A subsequent crisis arousing fear of a re-enthronement of the Bourbons, the people, in 1795, elected Napoleon Bonaparte, conceiving him to be the only soldier and politician of the time able to cope with the danger and avert such a calamity. His dictatorship led, in 1804, to his being elected guardian of the republic. The revolution really began on July 12, 1789, following the dismissal of Necker. The people were enraged. They pillaged the shops where arms were sold, and then followed a reign of terror. Bandits roved through the streets plundering shops and houses. During the night of the 12th all the barriers were forced and set on fire. The crowds seemed to have gone mad with desire to shoot and destroy. This day remains to this day one of the most eventful days in French history. The authorities did everything they could to put down the insurrection, but they were helpless. At the Bastille a great concourse of people had gathered. There were, in fact, more spectators curious to see what would happen than there were participants in the outbreak. The garriotte at the Bastille, however, thinking that all Paris had come to drive them out, surrendered before any attack was made. That day, July 12, 1789, one of the most eventful days in French history. It was the beginning of the French revolution, the end of which did not come until five years later. The king, upon the fall of the Bastille, yielded all that the people asked of him. The middle classes, however, did not stop the struggle until 1792. This revolution surpassed any other in history and was destined to influence the history of all Europe for many years to come. It is interesting to note that while the French threw off the yoke of royalty at that time, their existence as a republic lasted only a few years, when Napoleon became emperor and took to himself imperial honors.

Anniversary of Mrs. Pankhurst's Birth. Emmeline Pankhurst isn't militant these days, except against Germany. She is the great book of the Revolution; to which all parties turn alike. Today the statues of the Terrorists stand in the French capital. The present French Republic prides itself on being the child and heir of the Great Republic of 1793; this year it is in its forty-seventh year of existence, which is double the length of any previous regime since 1789. We may conclude, then, that the noble people who are our allies have reached the "promised

Today We Celebrate

The French Revolution

There is not much noisy celebration today in France of battle day, the French fourth of July, but deep in the hearts of Frenchmen the memory of the storming of the Bastille lives on to further deeds of heroism. The French revolution really began on July 12, 1789, following the dismissal of Necker. The people were enraged. They pillaged the shops where arms were sold, and then followed a reign of terror. Bandits roved through the streets plundering shops and houses. During the night of the 12th all the barriers were forced and set on fire. The crowds seemed to have gone mad with desire to shoot and destroy. This day remains to this day one of the most eventful days in French history. The authorities did everything they could to put down the insurrection, but they were helpless. At the Bastille a great concourse of people had gathered. There were, in fact, more spectators curious to see what would happen than there were participants in the outbreak. The garriotte at the Bastille, however, thinking that all Paris had come to drive them out, surrendered before any attack was made. That day, July 12, 1789, one of the most eventful days in French history. It was the beginning of the French revolution, the end of which did not come until five years later. The king, upon the fall of the Bastille, yielded all that the people asked of him. The middle classes, however, did not stop the struggle until 1792. This revolution surpassed any other in history and was destined to influence the history of all Europe for many years to come. It is interesting to note that while the French threw off the yoke of royalty at that time, their existence as a republic lasted only a few years, when Napoleon became emperor and took to himself imperial honors.

further republican, not to say radical ideas. She was unusually gifted and was said to be the most beautiful woman in England at one time. In 1871 she met Dr. Pankhurst, a distinguished barrister, who had been a member of the first Woman Suffrage Society founded by John Stuart Mill. They were married in the same year. From then on Mrs. Pankhurst became active in the fight for woman suffrage. She preached her doctrines all over England and became the leader of the "cause." Her daughters grew up in her political faith, and when they grew to womanhood they helped in the fight. In the last few years before the war the advocates of woman suffrage developed into militant and led by Mrs. Pankhurst, may be said to have raged all over England. They destroyed considerable property. Many notable statesmen were held up on their way to and from their offices in London and several of them suffered considerable damage as a result of these encounters. When the war broke out the militants subsided and instead of carrying on the war against their government, helped it in the fight against the foreign enemy.

Little Stories of Big Men

Owen Wister

There may be a few persons running around loose who do not know that famous book, "The Virginian," but they are scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. And whoever knows the book knows its author, Owen Wister, one of the foremost of American authors. In connection with "The Virginian," it may be interesting to mention that only a few years ago there died in a shack several miles from Medicine Bow, Wyo., the last survivor of the once flourishing town of Carbon, who was an actual witness of the incident when the Virginian, who was the hero of Owen Wister's novel, mixed the babies at the ranch dance not far from Carbon, the town which has ceased to exist. Back in the sixties, when the Union Pacific built its first road across the continent and coal could not be had nearer than a thousand miles, it was known that there were coal beds at Carbon, and all haste was made to get the road completed to that point, in order that the coal beds might be opened to commerce. Many adventurous spirits came with the first settlers of the country, which at that time was the home of the Indian. The Virginian of Wister's story was one of these adventurers. Owen Wister was born in Philadelphia on July 14, 1860, and is therefore today celebrating his 57th birthday. He graduated from Harvard with the degree of A. B. in 1882. Besides being a famous author, he was also a lawyer, having been admitted to the bar in 1889. His wife, to whom he was very much devoted, died in 1913. He has written novels, historical works, biographies and books and articles on animal life.

Sidelights on the War

Women in Soldiers' Jobs

Yes, Uncle Sam's needs will have to get on the job, too, just as John Bull's daughters and those of fair France have taken up the work of the men who have gone off to war. Already there are several women paying tollers in banks throughout the country who will now smile through the window at customers and maybe their smiles will increase deposits, who knows? Besides this, there are, of course, many less conspicuous positions formerly held by men which have now been taken over by women. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has, however, taken the most radical step in the matter of replacing men with women. Recently twenty-one women were taken on to fill jobs left vacant by employees who were members of the National Guard and who have joined the colors. The first woman to apply at the B. & O. shops at Leacost Point is now a forewoman, while several others are running intricate machinery. They wear overall caps and other regalia of the man who works at machinery and they are rapidly becoming as efficient as the men whose places they have taken.

ST. GENEVIEVE

It is St. Genevieve who is said in Catholic annals to have saved Paris from an attack by the Huns under Attila. She was born at Nanterre, near Paris. At 7 years of age she dedicated her life to the church. After the death of her parents she went to live in Paris and here performed many works of charity. She suffered persecution and attempts were made to have her made to marry. During the siege of Paris by Childeric she went out with a few followers and induced that king of the Franks to give her food for the starving poor of the city. St. Genevieve died at the age of 33. She is the patron saint of Paris and many Parisians today worship at her shrine.

Today's Anniversaries

A most interesting incident took place on July 14, 1776, in which George Washington and Lord Howe were the principal actors. It seems that Lord Howe had occasion to write Washington a letter, and he addressed it "George Washington, Esq." The letter refused to accept the letter addressed in this manner and returned it unopened. Then Lord Howe tried again, this time addressing the letter to "George Washington, etc., etc., etc." He was again rebuffed. Finally he decided that if he wanted Washington to read what he had to say he might as well address his letter properly. And he did.

On July 14, 1798, congress passed the famous act for the punishment of sedition against the United States, commonly called the gag law.

WESTERN CITIES
WERE IN MARKET
FOR CASH OATSTrading at 'Peg Was Confined to Narrow Limits — No
Changes

Winnipeg, July 13.—Trading in the pit today was practically confined to cash wheat and oats, for which there was a continuation of the recent good demand. There were bids for all grades of wheat, and there were no changes in price. A premium of 1/2¢ was paid for No. 1 C.W. oats, and there was a specially keen demand for No. 2 tough and extra 1 feed. Offerings were light. Decreasing stocks in the interior elevators tend to keep prices firm. Saskatchewan and Moose Jaw were in the market for oats. There was considerable dealing in futures. There was little doing in barley and prices were off 4¢ to 5¢ from last quotations. There was a demand for flax. Little was offered in the cash market and values were considerably higher.

Winnipeg October wheat again closed unchanged from the previous close. Winnipeg July, October and December oats all closed 1/2¢ down; July flax 1/2¢ up, October 1/2¢ higher and December 2¢ up. July barley closed 5¢ lower.

Minneapolis wheat closed 5 1/2¢ higher for July and 1 1/2¢ up for September. Oats were 1/2¢ up for July at 74 1/2¢; October was 1/2¢ up at 63 1/2¢ and December 1/2¢ lower at 65 1/2¢.

Flax opened 1/2¢ lower for July at 240 and October was 1/2¢ lower at 274 1/2¢. There was no opening in the American markets up to ten o'clock.

Inspections were 548 cars, of which 160 were freight.
